

Allies Break Backbone Of Jap Force In Rabaul Area

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Allied Headquarters in the South-west Pacific, Oct. 14 (AP)—General MacArthur threw every bomber and fighter plane he could risk in a gigantic smash Tuesday at Japan's key sea-air bastion of Rabaul on New Britain, and the resultant devastation prompted the conservative general to say, "I think we have broken its back."

The raid by the biggest air armada ever amassed in this area "marks the turning point in the war in the south Pacific," declared the airforce commander, Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney.

The far-reaching results — they may reach the unbending of the whole perimeter of defenses anchored to Rabaul — were:

Devastating Damage
Destruction or severe damage of 177 enemy planes, an estimated 60 per cent of the airforce on Rabaul's airdromes.

Sinking of at least 17,600 tons of ships, including three destroyers and three merchant ships, as well as 43 small sea-going cargo vessels and 70 harbor craft.

Severe damaging of a submarine, its 5,000 ton tender, a 6,800 ton destroyer tender and a 7,000 ton cargo ship.

Wrecking and firing of wharves and waterfront installations at Simpson harbor, one of the finest in the world.

These accomplishments cost the Allies five planes out of the participating hundreds, the bulk of which were Americans. The raiders expended 350 tons of bombs, 25 tons more than the bomb load dropped last week on Wake Island, and more than 250,000 rounds of ammunition.

Surprised Japs
Escorted over Rabaul for the first time in the war by fighters, the Liberators and Mitchells struck by daylight at a base so bristling with defenses that heretofore attacks were made under cover of darkness. But that was before MacArthur acquired forward air bases on islands north of New Guinea.

The Japanese were so completely surprised at Rabaul that they got only 40 fighters in the air, of which 26 were downed. Low-flying Mitchells raked 151 grounded bombers and fighters while the fighter-protected Liberators went after shipping.

Rabaul is protected to the south by only the big Solomon's island of Bougainville now that Japan has been ousted from the central Solomons. Today's communique announced the crushing of all organized enemy resistance on Vella Lavella, with 200 Japanese slain in final operations. Bougainville itself underwent new Allied attacks in which 21 Japanese planes were shot down at a cost of three American raiders.

HONOR HEROES BY NEW SHIPS

Two destroyer escorts perpetuating the names of Navy heroes of the present war were launched today at the Navy Yard in Philadelphia.

The first launched was the DE-224 named the U S S. Rudderow after Lt. Commander Thomas Wright Rudderow, Brvn Mawr, who went down with his patrol yacht, Cythera, during enemy action in the Atlantic area on May 2, 1942.

Lt. Rudderow was well known in Gettysburg. He was general manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation for several years. He was among those who established the Gettysburg Motor club, which is affiliated with the state organization, in its present location in the Weaver building, center square. Upon several occasions he addressed motor club gatherings here.

Sponsor of the ship was Commander Rudderow's widow, Mrs. Katharine McI Rudderow, Bryn Mawr. Three children also survive the officer.

The second launching was that of the U S S. Day in honor of Chief Waterbender Francis Daniel Day, Millburn, New Jersey, who lost his life assisting 15 shipmates escape through a submerged porthole when the Oklahoma capsized during the attack on Pearl Harbor. His sister Katherine G. Day, christened the ship.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS TALK ON CONSERVATION

"Use it up; wear it out; make it do or do without—don't waste."

That was the motto Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative, urged upon members of the Woman's club of Gettysburg at their first fall meeting at the "Y" building, Wednesday afternoon, in a talk on "Conservation in the Home."

"Let your apron be your uniform—wear it proudly—and your skillet, your weapon," Miss Adams said as she told the clubwomen that a sixth of the nation's food is wasted through careless or uninformed handling in the homes.

Declaring that the present short food supply will be adequate if every American is made to understand the need for producing and conserving more food, the speaker said: "Let us look at rationing cheerfully and accept it gracefully. The food we have must be shared fairly."

Conservation Tips
Miss Adams asserted that Victory gardens have promoted an appreciation of the value of food and helped save blue stamps. "Never use canned foods if fresh ones are available," Miss Adams said. "Buy in season—let's forget strawberries in January. Buy in bulk and buy your vitamins at the grocery store instead of the drug store, they're cheaper."

Food conservation methods listed by Miss Adams included these: Cook vegetables in their jackets; use the liquids from cooked vegetables for soups and gravies; use stale bread as crumbs, pudding or for scalloped or casserole dishes; use leftovers with a new face or sauce; dry celery tops for use in soups or poultry fillings and peel fruits and vegetables thin.

Declaring that food conservation has introduced a new etiquette based on the saving of food, she told the ladies to squeeze their grapefruit, dunk their bread and use it to wipe clean their plates, and eat more cereals without worrying about waistline measurements. "The chances are you're getting less fats and sugar than in peace time," she pointed out.

Display of Canned Food
On the subject of clothing, Miss Adams said there will be 20 per cent more fall hats this year. She urged that old or disabled sewing machines be put to work to remodel used clothing for further use.

Club members had on display home-canned fruits and vegetables they preserved this summer and it was announced that a club survey to which 61 of the 110 members have responded shows that group canned 13,000 jars of fruits and vegetables during the season just ending. The same women put up 7,000 jars a year ago.

The program was arranged by the committee on conservation and gardens, headed by Mrs. Charles R. Wolfe. Mrs. Wolfe presented Miss Adams.

Clare Tree Major Play
The clubwomen voted to sponsor the presentation here next March 22 in the high school auditorium of a Clare Tree Major Children's Theater production for the benefit of a patriotic or charitable cause not yet finally selected. The play will be "The Five Little Peppers."

The club voted $5 to the soldiers' kit fund of the Red Cross and an equal sum to the state fund for cancer control.

Nine new members were received. (Please Turn to Page 2)

MILLER RITES ON SATURDAY

Funeral services for William W. Miller, 68-year-old Straban township farmer who was fatally injured Wednesday morning on the Lincoln highway near his home, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bender funeral home.

The Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, will officiate at the service. Interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock. In addition to the surviving children listed Wednesday, there are 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild surviving.

Inquest Today
This afternoon at 3:50 o'clock Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, will hold an inquest at the court house in the accident which caused Mr. Miller's death. The latter was driving a grain drill along the highway, drawn by two horses, when the rear of the vehicle was struck by a truck loaded with five tons of feed and operated by Robert C. Dietz, 34, Hallam R. 1.

Dietz was quoted after the accident as saying that the steering gear locked and he was unable to avoid striking the horse-drawn vehicle. Police said that tests after the crash showed the truck's brakes and steering gear to be in working condition. Mr. Miller was killed instantly. He suffered a fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

ANNOUNCE VIEWING

Friends of Arthur Vaughn, who died Wednesday morning at his home along the Biglerville road, may call Friday evening after 7 o'clock at the Bender funeral home, it was announced today. The funeral services will be held Saturday morning meeting at the funeral home at 8:30 o'clock with a high requiem mass at 9 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

EFFECTS OF DRY WEATHER GROW MORE SERIOUS

The dry weather—extending from early in the summer until the present time, not only has set 30- and 40-year records for "driest months," but is forcing a number of county farmers to abandon their usual sources of water supply in favor of more plentifully filled wells and springs. It has also cost the county thousands of dollars in lost crops—particularly corn and apples.

A large number of wells are reported dry throughout the county and hundreds of wells have been dry for a day or two at various times during the summer and are now dangerously near the "empty" mark.

In Emmitsburg, S. C. Hays, manager of the water company, this week issued a notice reporting that "the extended dry period is now showing its effect on our water supply; therefore you are requested to conserve water in every way." The use of a hose for any purpose is prohibited in Emmitsburg.

Enough Water Here

The local water company, while feeling no pinch at the present moment, is installing equipment so that the water from an 800 foot well near the water works may be turned into the town's mains at any time the shortage becomes too serious.

Boroughs in the county that have a municipal water supply have not yet suffered for lack of water, a survey today showed, but in Fairfield where wells and springs are depended upon many residents are carrying water from the wells of more fortunate neighbors.

A real fire hazard exists in Fairfield, one resident pointed out today, because of the fact that three small streams—one at each end and one that flows through the town—are dry. The only source of water for firefighting is a quarry about three quarters of a mile from town.

Crops Hard Hit

Most damage so far has been to the crops. While the national corn crop fell only a small per cent below last year's harvest, Adams county farmers were hard hit by the weather with most corn crops averaging much less than 40 per cent of a normal crop and farmers in the southern section of the county finding their corn "roasted" out of existence. Tomato crops in the southeastern part of the county were hard hit as were hundreds of "nicotry" gardens throughout the county. Beans, oats and late hay crops also were affected.

While no complete estimate on the apple crop was available as yet, a number of county growers and M. T. Hartman, county farm agent, placed the total at "below 50 per cent of a crop."

One farm authority estimated that many fruit growers would lose money on their apples this year, despite the high prices. Some sections. (Please Turn to Page 2)

TO GIVE ARMY, NAVY TEST HERE

The second qualifying test for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program V-12 will be given Tuesday, November 9, at the Gettysburg high school. It has been announced by G. W. Lefever, the principal. The test will be given at 9 a. m.

The test is to be administered only to boys who will be 17 to 21 years old, inclusive on March 1, 1944, and who will have graduated from high school by that date. Boys who took the first test on April 2 may take it again if they are still eligible.

It is expected that the boys who will be interested in taking the test are those who graduated from high school last June or this summer and who are still in the community but not yet in the armed forces. With no mid-year graduation take place here, boys who are undergraduates now will not be eligible for the test.

A government announcement of the test states: "These Army and Navy specialized training programs present an opportunity to secure at government expense an education approximately equivalent to that which might normally be secured in a college course of equal length. Successful completion of these courses may, depending on the officer requirements at the time and following further officer training, lead to a commission in the Army or Navy."

Further information on the tests is available from Mr. Lefever.

BAD WEATHER MAY POSTPONE FLAG PROGRAM THIS EVENING

Cloudy skies and a forecast of showers brought from the committee in charge of the flag-presentation exercises set for 8 o'clock this evening in center square a statement that if it is raining or "very threatening" at the hour for the ceremony, the presentation will be postponed until next Thursday evening. Cloudy skies or earlier showers will not cause postponement, it was stated.

Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the Lutheran Theological seminary here, will present a silk American flag and a silk state banner—bought with the contributions of Adams counties—to the county company of the State Guard Reserve. The company commander, Capt. C. Arthur Bram, will accept the flags.

Here And There
News Collected At Random

Twenty nurses' aides have served 3,809 hours, voluntarily, at the Annie M. Warner hospital as part of their contribution to aiding the war effort. Prior to serving as aides each completed the course of instruction of 80 hours.

Now comes another appeal for more nurses' aides . . . for more women to devote some of their leisure hours to assist the already badly depleted staff at the hospital. The appeal is being made all over the nation because practically every hospital is suffering from a severe shortage of registered nurses . . . nurses who have gone into war service on battlefronts all over the world.

This is a humanitarian appeal. It is made on behalf of those who are ill and need medical and nursing attention. Every woman who has some leisure hours should give serious consideration to the appeal.

Of the service already rendered here by nurses' aides many interesting sidelights are unfolded.

For instance, one aide who completed the last course was only able to devote leisure time during three months yet she accumulated 41 hours of service.

Another found time to serve during the past 15 months and she accumulated 296 hours. Yet another gave considerable of her time during nine months and accumulated a total of 769 hours.

It is not necessarily the amount of time or the number of hours an aide devotes out the fact that she has offered her services to a cause that has all the pathos of a human appeal from and for a suffering body. The more time an aide can devote to her work the better it is. The important thing is to secure a great many more women who will take the course and give as much of their leisure time as they can in the future.

Here is a tabulation of the work of the 20 active nurses' aides, the number of months during which each served and the total number of hours served:

Cross River Despite Withering Fire From Light and Heavy Guns

FIREMEN NAME GROUP TO STUDY ALARM SYSTEM

The possibility that Gettysburg may soon obtain a new fire and air raid alarm system came a step nearer Wednesday evening when the local fire company appointed Joseph E. Codori and D. C. Stallsmith to meet with a committee of town council to consider improvements to the present fire alarm system.

Improvement of the fire alarm system was defined at the meeting to also include the development of a more distinguishable air raid alarm system. Much agitation concerning the present alarm system has been voiced over the past year with defense officials asserting that the present alarm system for air raids is confusing and cannot be clearly told from the regular fire alarm while firemen in some sections of the town at the same time have been urging the installation of additional fire alarm sirens because, they claim, the present siren cannot be heard in all sections of the town, particularly when there is strong wind blowing.

The firemen voted to place all of the money received by the company from salvage campaigns into the general fund to be used to purchase new fire equipment and apparatus. One possible use for the salvage money suggested by a number of firemen is that it be made the basis for a fund to purchase a ladder truck for the local company sometime after victory when new equipment is more readily available.

County Firemen to Meet

George D. March, Paul E. Oyler, M. E. Crouse, Edward Anzengruber and Emory Strausbaugh were appointed as entertainment committee for the January meeting of the Adams County Firemen's association which will be held here.

For the second straight year the firemen voted to drop the annual kiddies party at Christmas because of the scarcity of candy and fruit. D. C. Stallsmith, Richard Cole and S. Richard Eisenhart were appointed auditors.

Two new members were elected. They were S. Franklin Skope, Sr., and Fred Sanders.

President James B. Aumen presided with 40 members present.

Shortage Of Christmas Dolls—Penalty Of War

BY DOROTHY ROE
The Associated Press

"Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a doll. Just any kind of doll will do. She doesn't have real hair or eyes, that go to sleep. She doesn't even have to say 'Mama.' If she's just a cuddly rag doll I'll love her just the same. That's all I want, dear Santa. Please don't let me down.
Yours truly,
MARY JONES."

Well, Mary, you've got to be a big, brave girl, and get set for a shock. Old Santa may not be able to bring that doll this year. He's got to get by, but what with shortage and patriotic and frozen stock, the doll just isn't so jolly these days.

There never has been a time before, at least not since you can remember, Mary—when Santa Claus couldn't dig down in his pack and come up with a Christmas doll for a very good little girl.

This year things are different. There's a war going on, you know, and Santa's helpers, known as the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A., are practically at their wits' end, trying to piece together enough toys to go around.

When Uncle Sam said no more rubber dolls, that was all right. When they had to stop using metal

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 14 (AP)—British and American troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army cracked the strong German lines along the Volturmo river in a fierce night attack early yesterday and have established several armor-reinforced bridgeheads across that most formidable obstacle in the path to Rome, Allied headquarters announced today.

Gen. Clark struck at a time to take advantage of favorable weather when dry ground allowed deployment of his forces and after a terrific artillery barrage had softened the enemy's defense positions on the north bank.

Tanks Are Lugged Across
Engineers bridged the Volturmo to get American tanks across the stream, which for days had been virtually impassable because of high water.

But the Germans had rushed fresh contingents south from the Rome area in recent days to meet an expected attack, and as the British and Americans clawed their way up the steep banks fierce fighting raged up and down the north side of the stream.

Seven German divisions were in line across Italy to oppose the Allied advance.

This advance was all along the line. After a heavy fight troops northwest of Benevento captured the town of Guardia, four miles north of the Calore river and only nine miles east of the Volturmo. This advance threatened the left flank of the Germans fighting behind the Volturmo defenses.

Some Troops Swim River
The British and Canadians in the center of the line drove forward five miles. They pursued the enemy and occupied Gildone, less than a mile southeast of Campobasso, and made other gains to swing the east end of their line forward.

But Clark and his seasoned warriors were ready and drove back every German unit which had crossed to the south bank and then launching their own heavy offensive at many points both east and west of Capua.

The Germans fought back fiercely and covered the routes of approach to their positions with machine-gun, mortar and rifle fire and a heavy concentration of shells from their bigger guns back in the hills.

But the Allied troops battled across the 100 to 200 yard river—some by swimming, some in assault boats and others in amphibious trucks.

LIST NEW CASE

By agreement of all parties concerned and with the permission of the court, another civil suit was listed for trial by jury at the November session of court. It is an ejection action by Harvey P. Jones, individually, and trading as Elevation Orchard farms, against George A. Boush, H. Owen, Leslie H. Varnie Shinnham.

ARRIVES IN ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hankey Fairfield road, have received word their son, Cpl. Robert Hankey, has arrived safely in England.

(A CBS commentator in a broadcast from Algiers said bridgeheads were gained at points both east and west of Capua.)

The Germans threw their carefully hoarded fighter plane strength into the fray. One formation of 16 Messerschmitts was beaten off by Spitfires which shot down two and damaged many more.

Swarms of day and night bombers from Allied airdromes supported the great drive, hitting at communications, highways, bridges and troop concentrations and enemy airfields.

Day, Night Battle

Combat engineers who went into action with the assault forces, quickly established temporary bridges under fire as soon as infantry footholds had been gained on the north bank of the Volturmo, and tanks lugged across.

All through yesterday and last night, the battle raged and it was the belief that the Germans would fight desperately for every foot of ground.

With only seven divisions arrayed against the Fifth and Eighth armies it was obvious that the Germans had too few troops to make a really stand even along the Gaeta-Pescara line to the north where rough mountains would favor a defense.

Nazis Need Help
They seemed contented, therefore with the alternative of either attempting to bring south some of the divisions north of Rome, or of relinquishing the Italian capital and all the political prestige that goes with its retention.

At the same time the bulletin reported that northwest African air forces had swept across the Adriatic and bombed Tirana, capital of Albania.

On the east side of the line across Italy, the British Eighth army made a slight advance against strong resistance the announcement said.

The air attack on Tirana was carried out by American Mitchell bombers, operating from bases in Italy. They were escorted by American P-38 Lightnings. It was the first American air assault on German forces in Albania. The airfield at the Albanian capital was hit.

All the attacking American planes returned.

Special for the week-end, just arrived, Emma Kuhn, Chambersburg Street, Gettysburg.

This afternoon at 3:50 o'clock Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, will hold an inquest at the court house in the accident which caused Mr. Miller's death. The latter was driving a grain drill along the highway, drawn by two horses, when the rear of the vehicle was struck by a truck loaded with five tons of feed and operated by Robert C. Dietz, 34, Hallam R. 1.

Dietz was quoted after the accident as saying that the steering gear locked and he was unable to avoid striking the horse-drawn vehicle. Police said that tests after the crash showed the truck's brakes and steering gear to be in working condition. Mr. Miller was killed instantly. He suffered a fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

as a newspaper reporter, free-lance writer on political subjects, postmistress at Gainsville and, during World War I, an employee of the Veterans Bureau in Washington.

She was a school girl—classmate of General Longstreet's daughter at Brenau College—when she met the famous Confederate leader. They were married at the Executive Mansion in Atlanta in 1897.

"I couldn't stay out of this war," she said. "The thought of American boys dying on the battlefields made me realize that I had to get in and do my part toward achieving victory."

Mrs. Longstreet, whose husband fought in the Battle of Gettysburg, is heading a movement to erect a $200,000 memorial to the memory of her late husband. The site of the memorial was dedicated here in July 1941.

EFFECTS OF DRY
WEATHER GROW MORE SERIOUS

The dry weather—extending from early in the summer until the present time, not only has set 30- and 40-year records for "driest months," but is forcing a number of county farmers to abandon their usual sources of water supply in favor of more plentifully filled wells and springs. It has also cost the county thousands of dollars in lost crops—particularly corn and apples.

A large number of wells are reported dry throughout the county and hundreds of wells have been dry for a day or two at various times during the summer and are now dangerously near the "empty" mark.

In Emmitsburg, S. C. Hays, manager of the water company, this week issued a notice reporting that "the extended dry period is now showing its effect on our water supply; therefore you are requested to conserve water in every way." The use of a hose for any purpose is prohibited in Emmitsburg.

Enough Water Here

The local water company, while feeling no pinch at the present moment, is installing equipment so that the water from an 800 foot well near the water works may be turned into the town's mains at any time the shortage becomes too serious.

Boroughs in the county that have a municipal water supply have not yet suffered for lack of water, a survey today showed, but in Fairfield where wells and springs are depended upon many residents are carrying water from the wells of more fortunate neighbors.

A real fire hazard exists in Fairfield, one resident pointed out today, because of the fact that three small streams—one at each end and one that flows through the town—are dry. The only source of water for firefighting is a quarry about three quarters of a mile from town.

Crops Hard Hit

Most damage so far has been to the crops. While the national corn crop fell only a small per cent below last year's harvest, Adams county farmers were hard hit by the weather with most corn crops averaging much less than 40 per cent of a normal crop and farmers in the southern section of the county finding their corn "roasted" out of existence. Tomato crops in the southeastern part of the county were hard hit as were hundreds of "victory" gardens throughout the county. Beans, oats and late hay crops also were affected.

While no complete estimate on the apple crop was available as yet, a number of county growers and M. T. Hartman, county farm agent, placed the total at "below 50 per cent of a crop."

One farm authority estimated that many fruit growers would lose money on their apples this year, despite the high prices. Some second (Please Turn to Page 2)

TO GIVE ARMY,
NAVY TEST HERE

The second qualifying test for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program V-12 will be given Tuesday, November 9, at the Gettysburg high school, it has been announced by G. W. Lefever, the principal. The test will be given at 9 a. m.

The boys to be administered only to tests who will be 17 to 21 years old, inclusive on March 1, 1944, and who will have graduated from high school by that date. Boys who took the first test on April 2 may take it again if they are still eligible.

It is expected that the boys who will be interested in taking the test are those who graduated from high school last June or this summer and who are still in the community but not yet in the armed forces. With no mid-year graduation to take place here, boys who are undergraduates now will not be eligible for the test.

A government announcement of the test states: "These Army and Navy specialized training programs present an opportunity to secure at government expense an education approximately equivalent to that which might normally be secured in a college course of equal length. Successful completion of these courses may, depending on the officer requirements at the time and following further officer training, lead to a commission in the Army or Navy."

Further information on the tests is available from Mr. Lefever.

BAD WEATHER
MAY POSTPONE
FLAG PROGRAM
THIS EVENING

Cloudy skies and a forecast of showers brought from the committee in charge of the flag-presentation exercises set for 8 o'clock this evening in center square a statement that if it is raining or "very threatening" at the hour for the ceremony, the presentation will be postponed until next Thursday evening. Cloudy skies or earlier showers will not cause postponement, it was stated.

Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the Lutheran Theological seminary here, will present a silk American flag and a silk state banner—bought with the contributions of Adams counties—to the county company of the State Guard Reserve. The company commander, Capt. C. Arthur Brang, will accept the flags.

Twenty nurses' aides have served 3,809 hours, voluntarily, at the Annie M. Warner hospital as part of their contribution to aiding the war effort. Prior to serving as aides each completed the course of instruction of 80 hours.

Now comes another appeal for more nurses' aides . . . for more women to devote some of their leisure hours to assist the already badly depleted staff at the hospital. The appeal is being made all over the nation because practically every hospital is suffering from a severe shortage of registered nurses . . . nurses who have gone into war service on battlefronts all over the world.

This is a humanitarian appeal. It is made on behalf of those who are ill and need medical and nursing attention. Every woman who has some leisure hours should give serious consideration to the appeal.

Of the service already rendered here by nurses' aides many interesting sidelights are unfolded.

For instance, one aide who completed the last course was only able to devote leisure time during three months yet she accumulated 41 hours of service.

Another found time to serve during the past 15 months and she accumulated 296 hours. Yet another gave considerable of her time during nine months and accumulated a total of 769 hours.

It is not necessarily the amount of time or the number of hours an aide devotes out the fact that she has offered her services to a cause that has all the pathos of a human appeal from and for a suffering body. The more time an aide can devote to her work the better it is. The important thing is to secure a great many more women who will take the course and give as much of their leisure time as they can in the future.

Here is a tabulation of the work of the 20 active nurses' aides, the number of months during which each served and the total number of hours served:

FIREMEN NAME
GROUP TO STUDY
ALARM SYSTEM

The possibility that Gettysburg may soon obtain a new fire and air raid alarm system came a step nearer Wednesday evening when the local fire company appointed Joseph E. Codori and D. C. Stallsmith to meet with a committee of town council to consider improvements to the present fire alarm system.

Improvement of the fire alarm system was defined at the meeting to also include the development of a more distinguishable air raid alarm system. Much agitation concerning the present alarm system has been voiced over the past year with defense officials asserting that the present alarm system for air raids is confusing and cannot be clearly told from the regular fire alarm while firemen in some sections of the town at the same time have been urging the installation of additional fire alarm sirens because, they claim, the present siren cannot be heard in all sections of the town, particularly when there is strong wind blowing.

The firemen voted to place all of the money received by the company from salvage campaigns into the general fund to be used to purchase new fire equipment and apparatus. One possible use for the salvage money suggested by a number of firemen is that it be made the basis for a fund to purchase a ladder truck for the local company sometime after victory when new equipment is more readily available.

County Firemen to Meet

George D. March, Paul E. Oyler, M. E. Crouse, Edward Anzengruber and Emory Strausbaugh were appointed as entertainment committee for the January meeting of the Adams County Firemen's association which will be held here.

For the second straight year the firemen voted to drop the annual kiddies party at Christmas because of the scarcity of candy and fruit. D. C. Stallsmith, Richard Cole and S. Richard Eisenhart were appointed auditors.

Two new members were elected. They were S. Franklin Swope, Sr., and Fred Sanders.

President James B. Aumen presided with 40 members present.

Shortage Of Christmas
Dolls—Penalty Of War

BY DOROTHY ROE
The Associated Press

"Dear Santa Claus:
"Please bring me a doll. Just any kind of doll will do. She needn't have real hair or eyes that go to sleep. She doesn't even have to say 'Mama.' If she's just a cuddly rag doll I'll love her just the same. That's all I want, dear Santa. Please don't let me down.
Yours truly,
MARY JONES."

Well, Mary, you've got to be a big, brave girl, and get set for a shock—Old Santa may not be able to bring that doll this year. He's doing his best, but what with shortages and priorities and frozen stocks, the jolly saint is not so jolly these days.

There never has been a time before—at least not since you can remember, Mary—when Santa Claus couldn't dig down in his pack and come up with a Christmas doll for a very good little girl.

This year things are different. There's a war going on, you know, and Santa's helpers, known as the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A., are practically at their wits' end trying to piece together enough toys to go around.

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 14 (AP)—British and American troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army cracked the strong German lines along the Volturno river in a fierce night attack early yesterday and have established several armor-reinforced bridgeheads across that most formidable obstacle in the path to Rome, Allied headquarters announced today.

Gen. Clark struck at a time to take advantage of favorable weather when dry ground allowed deployment of his forces and after a terrific artillery barrage had softened the enemy's defense positions on the north bank.

Tanks Are Lugged Across
Engineers bridged the Volturno to get American tanks across the stream, which for days had been virtually impassable because of high water.

But the Germans had rushed fresh contingents south from the Rome area in recent days to meet an expected attack, and as the British and Americans clawed their way up the steep banks fierce fighting raged up and down the north side of the stream.

Seven German divisions were in line across Italy to oppose the Allied advance.

This advance was all along the line. After a heavy fight troops northwest of Benevento captured the town of Guardia, four miles north of the Calore river and only nine miles east of the Volturno. This advance threatened the left flank of the Germans fighting behind the Volturno defenses.

Some Troops Swim River

The British and Canadians in the center of the line drove forward five miles. They pursued the enemy and occupied Gildone, less than a mile southeast of Campobasso, and made other gains to swing the east end of their line forward.

But Clark and his seasoned warriors were ready and drove back every German unit which had crossed to the south bank and then launching their own heavy offensive at many points both east and west of Capua.

The Germans fought back fiercely and covered the routes of approach to their positions with machine-gun, mortar and rifle fire and a heavy concentration of shells from their bigger guns back in the hills.

But the Allied troops battled across the 100 to 200 yard river—some by swimming, some in assault boats and others in amphibious trucks.

LIST NEW CASE

By agreement of all parties concerned and with the permission of the court, another civil suit was listed for trial by jury at the November session of court. It is an ejection action by Harvey P. Jones, individually, and trading as Elevation Orchard farms, against George A. Beulah H. Owen, Leslie and Vernie Shinnham.

ARRIVES IN ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hankey, Fairfield road, have received word their son, Cpl. Robert Hankey, has arrived safely in England.

Day, Night Battle

Combat engineers who went into action with the assault forces, quickly established temporary bridges under fire as soon as infantry footholds had been gained on the north bank of the Volturno, and tanks rushed across.

All through yesterday and last night, the battle raged and it was the belief that the Germans would fight desperately for every foot of ground.

With only seven divisions arrayed against the Fifth and Eighth armies it was obvious that the Germans had too few troops to make a really firm stand even along the Gaeta-Pescara line to the north where rough mountains would favor a defense.

Nazis Need Help

They seemed confronted, therefore, with the alternative of either attempting to bring south some of the divisions north of Rome, or of relinquishing the Italian capital and all the political prestige that goes with its retention.

At the same time the bulletin reported that northwest African air forces had swept across the Adriatic and bombed Tirana, capital of Albania.

On the east side of the line across Italy, the British Eighth army made a slight advance against strong resistance the announcement said.

The air attack on Tirana was carried out by American Mitchell bombers, operating from bases in Italy. They were escorted by American P-38 Lightnings. It was the first American air assault on German forces in Albania. The airfield at the Albanian capital was hit.

All the attacking American planes returned.

Specials for the week-end, just arrived, Emma Kuhn, Chambersburg Street, Gettysburg.

SAYS ITALIANS WANTED PEACE; HATED GERMANY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
The Associated Press

There appears to be fear in some circles that Italy is going to squeak out of just retribution for her partnership in the Axis because she has become a co-belligerent with the United Nations.

Well, one can understand that feeling, especially among Allied soldiers who have had comrades killed by Mussolini's troops. It's a natural reaction. Still, it seems to me we don't need to be anxious on that score. Italy is paying a terrible price for her sins, and will continue to pay.

Duce Forced War

As a matter of fact, I for one must plead guilty to having a different feeling towards the Italian people in general (quite apart from Mussolini and his gang) than towards our other enemies. That's because I toured Italy not long before the war and found that the rank and file were peace-minded enough and were bitterly hostile to Hitler. In short, Mussolini carried most of his people into the war against their wills.

How could that happen? You've got to experience the working of an absolute dictatorship to understand. When I was in Italy after Munich, people were talking in whispers for fear of the Duce's secret police. Typical of the general feeling was that of a young man who had a wife and two children. He was a brilliant chap who spoke six languages and wanted to get to the United States where he had an opening for his talents. I asked him why he didn't go. He glanced over his shoulder fearfully before answering, and tears came to his eyes as he said:

"Until I'm fifty-five I'm potential cannon fodder for Mussolini. No man can leave Italy so long as he is able to fight."

People Punished

If you demand that Mussolini and the rest of the Fascist regime shall be made to walk the plank, or otherwise be put out of circulation permanently, you will find few Allied folk to argue against it. The Italian people, though, are being horribly punished by German atrocities and by the ravages of war amidst their homes. Also they bid fair to lose much of their empire—not a very good empire but still an empire. That seems like enough to make 'em good.

There's no doubt that the Italian declaration of war against Hitler will benefit the Allies. We don't need to be grateful for that, but we don't need to forget it, either. Indeed, the Allies offer the Italians indirect encouragement by saying that the unconditional surrender terms "can only be adjusted by agreement between the Allied governments in the light of the assistance which the Italian government may be able to afford to the United Nations' cause."

Hurt Axis Morale

What assistance can Italy give us? One thing is certain: Her declaration of war is bound to have a tremendously adverse effect on Axis morale, and to encourage the countries under Nazi occupation. Germany is openly branded as guilty of barbarous atrocities and as hateful even to her own ally. Obviously, Hitler is labeled as a certain loser.

We will be wise to reserve judgment on the probable extent to help which the Allies may get from Italian troops. Marshal Badoglio has called on his men for a "united military effort," but the fact remains that at the time of Italy's surrender the fighting men were thoroughly fed up with the war. Perhaps the fact of events will give them fresh determination to win through, but must wait and see. Certainly anti-German population in Italy is bound to help Hitler.

There has been no indication of the number of troops at Badoglio's disposal. The Allies have several hundred thousand Italian prisoners, but General Eisenhower's headquarters haven't made known whether these men will be released for combat service.

Value of Fleet

The value of the Italian fleet of 150 warships of all categories is easier to gauge. These are under Allied control, and will enable America and Britain to release some of their own ships in the Mediterranean for use elsewhere.

There's one other important aspect of this development. America, Britain and Russia have agreed that Italy shall be free to choose her own democratic form of government. One of the issues between Russia and the Anglo-American Allies is their mutual fear of interference with the political complexion of European countries. An agreement to keep hands off in Italy is a good sign.

M. V. MELCHIOR KILLED IN FALL

Montfort Vertegans Melchior, 38, eldest son of Dr. D. Montfort Melchior, formerly of Gettysburg, committed suicide Wednesday. Mr. Melchior, head of the Romance languages department at Haverford college, had won public interest two and a half years ago when he supported two pro-interventionist Haverford professors when they resigned in protest against the non-interventionist stand of their colleagues on the faculty.

Plunging from the eighth floor of the Times Medical building in Ardmore, Melchior struck the pavement of an alley at 8:50 a. m., falling just a few feet behind Dr. William J. Crowley, a dentist, who was entering the building.

The Ardmore coroner said Melchior had suffered from a nervous disorder for the last four years and had received a medical discharge from the Navy last January after serving a year as a lieutenant.

His father, Dr. D. M. Melchior, is a graduate of Gettysburg college and for the last 21 years was supervisor of high school education at Girard college. His mother, Mary E. Montfort, was a resident of Gettysburg.

The deceased graduated from Lansdowne high school in 1922 and went to France for two years before completing his course for an A.B. degree at Haverford. While in France he married Mme. Martha Elizabeth Charbonneau, daughter of a Bordeaux chemist. He received a master of arts degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Besides his parents and widow he is survived by two children, Charles, 17, and Jean, 15.

Adams county's school children will begin immediately the collection of salvage articles in preparation for a county-wide concentrated school salvage program to begin November 15. County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh has announced.

To help with the war effort the schools will assist Dr. Eugene Elgin, East Berlin, county salvage chairman, in an effort to collect and sell 39 tons of waste paper per week until November 15, "in order to help the war production of bomb-bands, practice bombs, wing-tips, airplane signals, parachute flares, ammunition chests, shell protectors and containers as well as paper food materials," Mr. Slaybaugh said.

EFFECTS OF DRY

tions of the county, however, enjoying more rain than others, produced fair sized apple crops. Most crops were scattered and picking and spraying costs higher than ever before.

Shortened Harvest Season
Not since 1921, said Mr. Hartman, has the apple crop looked so bad in Adams county.

The dry spell has allowed the apple crop, what there was of it, to move in the quickest time since 1929. Most of the crop is already picked with only a few orchards still engaged in gathering the harvest. Nearly the entire crop will be picked by the end of this week, it was reported.

Few apples are to be seen about the county, with most of the crop going immediately to the canneries and the remainder being stored in packing houses. While the number of apples was nearly as large as last year, the number of bushels has fallen to an extremely low figure because the dry weather prevented growth of the fruit, it was explained.

TWO AMERICAN DESTROYERS SUNK

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Loss of two American destroyers in the Mediterranean was reported today by the Navy in a communique which also told of an unsuccessful Japanese bombing raid on Attu island in the Aleutians.

The destroyers, the Buck and Bristol both sunk as a result of underwater explosions, the Navy said.

The Buck, a 1,500-ton ship, went down off Salerno October 9 and the Bristol, a 1,700-ton vessel, was sunk yesterday.

The Navy said casualty details had not been received and that next of kin of all casualties will be notified immediately upon receipt of information. The bombing raid on Attu, taken from the Japanese late in May, was the first carried out since American occupation of that little island on the tip of the Aleutians chain.

Ten Japanese bombers flew high over Massacre bay at a great height. The Navy reported. Their bombs were dropped without causing damage.

SAYS ITALIANS WANTED PEACE; HATED GERMANY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The Associated Press

There appears to be fear in some circles that Italy is going to squeak out of just retribution for her partnership in the Axis because she has become a co-belligerent with the United Nations.

Well, one can understand that feeling, especially among Allied soldiers who have fought the Italians and have had comrades killed by Mussolini's troops. It's a natural reaction. Still, it seems to me we don't need to be anxious on that score. Italy is paying a terrible price for her sins, and will continue to pay.

Duce Forced War
As a matter of fact, I for one must plead guilty to having a different feeling towards the Italian people in general (quite apart from Mussolini and his gang) than towards our other enemies. That's because I toured Italy not long before the war and found that the rank and file were peace-minded enough and were bitterly hostile to Hitler. In short, Mussolini carried most of his people into the war against their wills.

How could that happen? You've got to experience the working of an absolute dictatorship to understand. When I was in Italy after Munich, people were talking in whispers for fear of the Duce's secret police. Typical of the general feeling was that of a young man who had a wife and two children. He was a brilliant chap who spoke six languages and wanted to get to the United States where he had an opening for his talents. I asked him why he didn't go. He glanced over his shoulder fearfully before answering, and tears came to his eyes as he said:

"Until I'm fifty-five I'm potential cannon fodder for Mussolini. No man can leave Italy so long as he is able to fight."

People Punished

If you demand that Mussolini and the rest of the Fascist regime shall be made to walk the plank, or otherwise be put out of circulation permanently, you will find few Allied folk to argue against it. The Italian people, though, are being horribly punished by German atrocities and by the ravages of war amidst their homes. Also they bid fair to lose much of their empire—not a very good empire but still an empire. That seems like enough to make 'em good.

There's no doubt that the Italian declaration of war against Hitler will benefit the Allies. We don't need to be grateful for that, but we don't need to forget it, either. Indeed, the Allies offer the Italians indirect encouragement by saying that the unconditional surrender terms "can only be adjusted by agreement between the Allied governments in the light of the assistance which the Italian government may be able to afford to the United Nations' cause."

Hurts Axis Morale

What assistance can Italy give us? One thing is certain: Her declaration of war is bound to have a tremendously adverse effect on Axis morale, and to encourage the countries under Nazi occupation. Germany is openly branded as guilty of barbarous atrocities and as hateful even to her own ally. Obviously, too, Hitler is labeled as a certain loser.

We will be wise to reserve judgment on the probable extent to help which the Allies may get from Italian troops. Marshal Badoglio has called on his men for a "united military effort," but the fact remains that at the time of Italy's surrender her fighting men were thoroughly fed up with the war. Perhaps the turn of events will give them fresh determination to win through, but we must wait and see. Certainly an anti-German population in Italy is no help to Hitler.

There has been no indication of the number of troops at Badoglio's disposal. The Allies have several hundred thousand Italian prisoners, but General Eisenhower's headquarters haven't made known whether these men will be released for combat service.

Value of Fleet
The value of the Italian fleet of 100 warships of all categories is easier to gauge. These are under Allied control and will enable America and Britain to release some of their own ships in the Mediterranean for use elsewhere.

There's one other important aspect of this development. America, Britain and Russia have agreed that Italy shall be free to choose her own democratic form of government. One of the issues between Russia and the Anglo-American Allies is their mutual fear of interference with the political complexion of European countries. An agreement to keep hands off in Italy is a good sign.

BOOTH SALES $526

The sale of war bonds and stamps at the Majestic theater booth totaled $526.70 from October 4 to October 9, it was announced by Mrs. Paul D. Thomas, chairman, and Sydney Poppay, manager. M. V. MELCHIOR KILLED IN FALL

Montfort Vertegans Melchior, 38, eldest son of Dr. D. Montfort Melchior, formerly of Gettysburg, committed suicide Wednesday. Mr. Melchior, head of the Romance languages department at Haverford college, had won public interest two and a half years ago when he supported two pro-interventionist Haverford professors when they resigned in protest against the non-interventionist stand of their colleagues on the faculty.

Plunging from the eighth floor of the Times Medical building in Ardmore, Melchior struck the pavement of an alley at 8:50 a. m., falling just a few feet behind Dr. William J. Crowley, a dentist, who was entering the building.

The Ardmore coroner said Melchior had suffered from a nervous disorder for the last four years and had received a medical discharge from the Navy last January after serving a year as a lieutenant.

His father, Dr. D. M. Melchior, is a graduate of Gettysburg college and for the last 21 years was supervisor of high school education at Girard college. His mother, Mary E. Montfort, was a resident of Gettysburg.

Adams county's school children will begin immediately the collection of salvage articles in preparation for a county-wide concentrated school salvage program to begin November 15. County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh has announced.

To help with the war effort the schools will assist Dr. Eugene Elgin, East Berlin, county salvage chairman, in an effort to collect and sell 39 tons of waste paper per week until November 15, "in order to help the war production of bomb-bands, practice bombs, wing-tips, airplane signals, parachute flares, ammunition chests, shell protectors and containers as well as paper board for containers for war and food materials," Mr. Slaybaugh said.

Mrs. Coleman Presides

The club directed its secretary to write a letter to the borough council urging the adoption of a curfew ordinance for Gettysburg. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. R. D. Wickerham, Mrs. E. F. Strausbaugh, Mrs. J. Herbert Raymond, Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. W. D. Hartshorne.

The president, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, presided at the meeting. Refreshments were served after the program and business session with Mrs. Charles Wolfe and Mrs. Ralph D. Helm presiding at the tea table.

The next meeting will be held October 27 with Mrs. R. S. Saby in charge as head of the American home and citizenship committee.

EFFECTS OF DRY

tions of the county, however, enjoying more rain than others, produced fair sized apple crops. Most crops were scattered and picking and spraying costs higher than ever before.

Shortened Harvest Season

Not since 1921, said Mr. Hartman, has the apple crop looked so bad in Adams county.

The dry spell has allowed the apple crop, what there was of it, to move in the quickest time since 1929. Most of the crop is already picked with only a few orchards still engaged in gathering the harvest. Nearly the entire crop will be picked by the end of this week, it was reported.

Few apples are to be seen about the county, with most of the crop going immediately to the canneries and the remainder being stored in packing houses. While the number of apples was nearly as large as last year, the number of bushels has fallen to an extremely low figure because the dry weather prevented growth of the fruit, it was explained.

TWO AMERICAN DESTROYERS SUNK

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP).—Loss of two American destroyers in the Mediterranean was reported today by the Navy in a communique which also told of an unsuccessful Japanese bombing raid on Attu island in the Aleutians.

The destroyers, the Buck and Bristol both sank as a result of underwater explosions, the Navy said.

The Buck, a 1,500-ton ship, went down off Salerno October 9 and the Bristol, a 1,700-ton vessel, was sunk yesterday.

The Navy said casualty details had not been received and that next of kin of all casualties will be notified immediately upon receipt of information.

The bombing raid on Attu, taken from the Japanese late in May, was the first carried out since American occupation of that little island on the tip of the Aleutian chain.

Ten Japanese bombers flew high over Massacre bay at a great height, the Navy reported. Their bombs were dropped without causing damage.

A winter schedule, designed for the conservation of coal, has been arranged for the Red Cross production center on East High street, it was stated today. DRY CHANGES LINEUP FOR DELONE TILT

Coach Mel Dry's Gettysburg high school football team will make its second home appearance of the season Friday evening when it meets its old rival, Delone Catholic high of McSherrystown. The game, which will get underway at 8 o'clock, is expected to draw a large crowd.

Undismayed by three straight reverses, the Maroon squad has been drilling this week with a determination that presages a busy evening for the favored Squires. Drills have been peppy and the entire squad personnel is fired with the ambition to snap the three-game losing streak now on the records for the Maroon squad.

Despite dropping a 7-6 decision to Calvert Hall last Sunday, the Squires showed their best form of the season and indicate they have now reached the stride expected of them. Coach Drach's warriors lost their first two games to Mt. St. Joseph's of Baltimore, and Hanover and then whipped York Catholic high.

Squires Are Vets

Delone has a husky team that contains a flock of lettermen. Foremost in the backfield is Folmer, hard-hitting back, who tips the beams at around 180 pounds. Bill Noel, halfback, is an excellent broken field runner while Murren and Funk, who round out the backfield, are not far behind in their ability to lug the pigskin.

No change is expected to be made in the forward wall for Delone which will mean that Overbaugh and Keefer will play the ends; Stambaugh and Lawrence, tackles; Staub and Rider, guards, and Sterner, center.

Coach Dry will re-arrange his lineup in an effort to gain more strength for the coming battle. William Troxell, who formerly performed in the backfield, has been assigned to an end position where he will pair up with Eugene Fidler who will be returning after missing the Waynesboro game due to a skin infection.

Tonsel To Start

Another change will find Bernard Little moved from a halfback post to quarterback replacing Shaner. Willie Tonsel, who gained considerable ground last Friday night, will take over Little's old post at half. Timbers will be at fullback and Dorsey at the other half.

Starting again on the line will be Sammy and Charley Weaver, tackles; Dick Epley and Curvin Sanders, guards, and Joe Hess at center who is replacing Haehnlen, now a hospital patient.

It was reported today that Tommy Small, quarterback, will probably be out for an additional two weeks due to an injury.

HOPP LEADING PRO SCORERS ON GRIDIRON

By WATSON SPOELSTRA
Detroit, Oct. 14 (AP)—Johnny got a zero-zero for four in the World Series—but Johnny's Hopp's brother, Harry, has yet to be shut out in 1943 National football league play.

With six touchdowns in four games for 36 points, Harry (Hippity) Hopp is the scoring leader of the pro league. At his present pace he's no great threat to the 138-point scoring record Green Bay's Don Hutson hung up last season, but his work is nevertheless astounding.

Three Brothers

Hopp, Nebraska's Rose Bowl fullback of 1941, is playing his third season with Detroit. He started with three touchdowns against the Chicago Cardinals and got one each against Brooklyn, the Chicago Bears and Green Bay.

Harry and Johnny Hopp comprise one of big-time sport's foremost brother combinations. Johnny, the elder, has just finished his fourth full season with the St. Louis Cardinals. For his brief World Series appearance he picked up the loser's share of $4,321, considerably more than Harry will make for a full gridiron season.

These two sons of Hastings, Neb., are wholly agreed on one point, that their kid brother, Wally, for-

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Now is the time to begin revising your football dope sheets . . . after Saturday the old ones won't be much good. Reason: The term is about to end for Navy and Marine trainees and by November 1 a lot of them will be missing from the college squads and a lot of V-12 "freshmen" will become eligible. . . . For example, Joe (Fordham) Andrejco played his final game for Dartmouth last Saturday. Angelo Bertelli will finish his tour at Notre Dame with the Navy game October 30 and Herman Wedemeyer, the Hawaiian sensation at St. Mary's, is expecting his draft call any day. . . . Princeton (if anybody cares) left two of the season's best Saturdays open because the sailors will be too busy with studies to bother about football.

She'd never get by with that in Brooklyn. . . . Probably the youngest paid-up member of the Women's International Bowling Congress is five-months-old Nikki Lynn Sorich of San Francisco, whose mother, father and grandfather all are active bowlers. . . . Sam Avey, Tulsa, Oklahomo, rasling promoter, was listening to the Notre Dame-Michigan broadcast last Saturday when old Strangler Lewis phoned him from Milwaukee to ask about a match with Cowboy Longson. . . . Avey's explanation that the local commission had ruled Lewis had to meet Orville Brown first wasn't getting over so well when, in the midst of the argument, Notre Dame made a touchdown and Sam let out a yell. . . . "Hold on a minute," exclaimed Lewis, who didn't know what had happened. "I didn't say I wouldn't meet Brown. You make the match—Longson or Brown—and just let me know."

KICKING STAR HAS BAD KNEES

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Two operations that left him without a cartilage in either knee couldn't keep Frank McKernan away from a football field, so the University of Pennsylvania got a placement-kick specialist whose boot won the Dartmouth game.

McKernan was an end in high school and his freshman year at Penn. He doesn't remember just when his legs started to go bad. The first operation, on the left leg, was performed at the end of his freshman season. During his sophomore year his right leg locked one day and he had to have an operation on that, too.

With both cartilages removed, he was classified 4-F in the draft, but his career as a football end was over.

Turns to Kicking

McKernan liked the game too much to stay away. When summer practice began this year he volunteered to help Paul Riblett coach the ends, and he still thinks that is his main contribution to Penn's undefeated team.

The atmosphere was too much for him. He began showing up a half-hour before drill time each day to practice kicking extra points and field goals.

Head Coach George Munger caught him in the act early in September and said, "hey, you're pretty

PEACE THOUGHTS
When friends and enemies meet once more
And the flame and fury of battle cease
Will hate, as so often it has before,
Still stand in the way of lasting peace?

When the wisest men of the strong
And weak
Are gathered together to write
The pacts
Will any for justice be there to speak?
Or will peace be lost by what force enacts?

Will peace be left for a sermon text,
A hope men have cherished, but all in vain?
Will this war seed the bitterer next Though we've vowed: "It must not happen again!"

When the last bomb drops and the fires grow cold
Will the writers of terms
remember the pain,
The blood and the sweat or will hatreds old
Still plunge us all back into war again?

Freedom is the most precious thing that any living thing can have. It is inherent. Mothers and fathers know that they can hold their children only for a limited time within the family circle. And this is as it should be. But the love that binds them is something that nothing can break.

I admire the boy, or girl, who wishes to go out into the world and make a place for himself, or herself. It is his or her right and privilege. Of course parents must then, but their great work has been accomplished when they have been taught the elementary principles of decency and honesty, as well as to be considerate of the feelings of all with whom they may come in contact. But no boys, or girls, should be caged in homes, or made to stay so long that they lose their dreams and their desire for travel and expansion of mind.

There is pathos in the song of every bird that is caged. I feel sorry for a big bear that I saw this summer, caged in a place so small that he hardly had room in which to turn around.

That which makes democracy so much to be desired, is that in it there is freedom, not only of thought but of expression. Freedom to go where one most wishes and to plan out one's life so as to gain the maximum of happiness. People are even self-caged—mentally bounded. To such I would say—look to the horizon, get into the roomy sphere of self-expression. Roam the world of ideas and of knowledge. Be raceless!

Just who placed the cross on the grass plot in the square and applied the match to the kerosene-soaked burlap with which the upright and cross bar were wrapped, could not be learned.

Chief of Police Andrew Weikert extinguished the flaming emblem and threw it in the vacant lot at the rear of the Hotel Gettysburg.

America Needs An Awakening: Worshipers, gathered in what was described as "Christian Unity," filled the Gettysburg Presbyterian church Sunday evening, for the first of the series of union evangelistic meetings held under the auspices of the Presbyterian, Methodist Episcopal, United Brethren and Reformed churches here.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Harry Daniels, pastor of the Gettysburg Methodist Episcopal church.

Rev. E. H. Hummelbaum Leaves Here: Rev. E. H. Hummelbaum, pastor of the Gettysburg United Brethren church, has been transferred to the Mount Alto charge, which will include preaching at the United Brethren church at Mount Alto, and also at the Quincy Orphanage. 1,236 YANKEES ENROUTE HOME FROM JAP GRIP

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—A Japanese liner steamed toward Portuguese India today carrying 1,236 Americans released from captivity, most of them missionaries and employees of corporations whose holdings were seized when the Pacific war broke out.

Also aboard the Teia Maru are 221 Canadians and 40 Nationals of Latin American republics.

They are to be exchanged at Mormugao for an equal number of Japanese now enroute there on the Swedish Exchange Liner Gripsholm.

The vessels travel with lights ablaze, deliberately seeking to be conspicuous so that their diplomatic status, guaranteed by the nations concerned, can be observed by commerce raiders.

The State Department, making the names public last night, listed such prominent Americans as the Rev. and Mrs. William J. Axling, of New York, he a missionary in Japan for many years; Raymond P. Cronin, Associated Press Bureau chief in Manila, and his wife, along with Russell Brines of Honolulu who was a member of Cronin's staff, Mrs. Brines and a daughter; Dr. John C. Ferguson of Newton, Mass., former adviser to the Chinese government and William T. Alexander, of Chicago, Far Eastern manager of the Palmolive-Peet-Colgate company.

The Gripsholm is expected at New York early in December.

OPA PLACES TIRE LIMITS

So that present limited tire and tube stocks may be distributed directly to those areas most in need of these supplies the Office of Price Administration said today that it has written into its tire rationing regulations the recent restrictions on tire dealers' inventories contained in War Production Board Rubber Order R-1.

Under the restrictions a dealer is specifically limited in the number of tires and tubes he may acquire. He may not order a number of tires and tubes in a particular group of products which will result in his inventory being larger than the number he sold during the preceding 60-day period, or a number larger than one-third of his total unit sales during the 180 days preceding his order, whichever is greater.

A certification to this effect must accompany his purchase order. However, one is not required when an allotment of tires or tubes is being acquired upon authorization of the OPA District office.

The group of tires affected by this order are: (1) new passenger and motorcycle tires; (2) new passenger and motorcycle tubes; (3) new truck, bus and special purpose tires; (4) new truck, bus and special purpose tubes; (5) new farm tractor or implement tires; (6) new farm tractor implement tubes; (7) new old truck-trailer tires.

1,236 YANKEES
ENROUTE HOME FROM JAP GRIP

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP) — A Japanese liner steamed toward Portuguese India today carrying 1,236 Americans released from captivity, most of them missionaries and employees of corporations whose holdings were seized when the Pacific war broke out.

Also aboard the Teia Maru are 221 Canadians and 40 Nationals of Latin American republics.

They are to be exchanged at Mormugao for an equal number of Japanese now enroute there on the Swedish Exchange Liner Gripsholm.

The vessels travel with lights ablaze, deliberately seeking to be conspicuous so that their diplomatic status, guaranteed by the nations concerned, can be observed by commerce raiders.

The State Department, making the names public last night, listed such prominent Americans as the Rev. and Mrs. William J. Axling, of New York, he a missionary in Japan for many years; Raymond P. Cronin, Associated Press Bureau chief in Manila, and his wife, along with Russell Brines of Honolulu who was a member of Cronin's staff, Mrs. Brines and a daughter; Dr. John C. Ferguson of Newton, Mass., former adviser to the Chinese government and William T. Alexander, of Chicago, Far Eastern manager of the Palmolive-Peet-Colgate company.

The Gripsholm is expected at New York early in December.

MONKEY SHINES

Philadelphia (AP) — The gun crew on a merchantman here says Jimmy is the next best thing to radar.

The seven-months-old monkey mascot was born during a bombing raid on North Africa. Now, long before there's any other sign of planes approaching, Jimmy begins making monkeyshines and then heads for a life raft.

He hasn't given a false alarm yet.

Deanna Durbin Sues For Divorce

Hollywood, Oct. 14 (AP) — A romance Hollywood thought was a cinch to endure has ended in the divorce courts.

OPA PLACES TIRE LIMITS

So that present limited tire and tube stocks may be distributed directly to those areas most in need of these supplies the Office of Price Administration said today that it has written into its tire rationing regulations the recent restrictions on tire dealers' inventories contained in War Production Board Rubber Order R-1.

Under the restrictions a dealer is specifically limited in the number of tires and tubes he may acquire. He may not order a number of tires and tubes in a particular group of products which will result in his inventory being larger than the number he sold during the preceding 60-day period, or a number larger than one-third of his total unit sales during the 180 days preceding his order, whichever is greater.

A certification to this effect must accompany his purchase order. However, one is not required when an allotment of tires or tubes is being acquired upon authorization of the OPA District office.

The group of tires affected by this order are: (1) new passenger and motorcycle tires; (2) new passenger and motorcycle tubes; (3) new truck, bus and special purpose tires; (4) new truck, bus and special purpose tubes; (5) new farm tractor-implement tires; (6) new farm tractor-implement tubes; (7) new old truck-trailer tires.

Without Painful Backache Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Urges "Blackout" Of Forest Fires

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Importance of maintaining "a complete blackout" of forest fires to protect drought-ridden Pennsylvania woodlands was emphasized today by George H. Wirt, chief State forest fire warden.

"We must exercise the greatest of care the next few months," Wirt declared. "The country is completely dry and some communities are down to the last drop of water in reservoirs."

He said "two big fires are burning in Elk county, one or two in Centre county and several others in scattered sections of the state.

"Fortunately, we have enough people to take good care of the fires which have sprung up recently," he added.

OLD LAW BLOCKS
OFFICERS' RISE

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—An old law once intended to prevent too rapid rise of youngsters to high army positions is blocking the promotion of five top-flight, headline making young generals who it seems aren't "generals" after all—just yet.

The five all hold the temporary rank of Lieutenant General—and entitled to act as such—but still are listed in their permanent rank of Lieutenant Colonel. They are:

Mark W. Clark, commanding general of the Fifth Allied Army storming through Italy.

Ira C. Eaker, commander of the Eighth Air Forces blasting the Reich from English bases.

George C. Kenney, chief of Mac-Arthur's air forces in the New Guinea-Solomon area.

Walter B. Smith, General Eisenhower's Chief of Staff.

Thomas T. Handy, Chief of Operations for the War Department.

President Roosevelt recently nominated them to be Brigadier Generals in the regular army, asking that necessary legislation be enacted to remove a 28-year service requirement.

None of the five has those 28 years of continuous commissioned service.

Thieves Loot Town
Of 8 Manhole Covers

Millbury, Mass., Oct. 14 (AP)—The old wheeze applied to small towns, to wit: That they take the streets in at night—might have its merits.

Police Chief Fred H. Vultor reported today that in recent nights eight manhole covers each weighing 220 pounds, have been pried out of the streets and carted away.

today behind a resolution pledging American participation in postwar collaboration to maintain peace. Indications were that the measure would be sent to the Senate floor without substantial changes.

An Associated Press poll disclosed that seven Democrats and five Republicans—a majority of the 23 committee members—find the resolution acceptable in its present form.

Three members oppose any action now, seven others are not yet ready to commit themselves, and one, Senator Glass (D-Va.) was not reached.

The Resolution

The resolution, approved 7 to 1
by a subcommittee headed by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the full committee, will be laid before the latter group next Tuesday in this form:

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—The na-with a manpower shortage—no players, but umpires, says President

Ray Dumont of the National Baseball congress.

After he told congress directors yesterday that sandlot baseball would have a shortage of 2,000 umpires next year, they approved sponsorship of a free course of instruction in umpiring. Those qualifying will be accepted as officials in

JAPS DECLARE "INDEPENDENCE" OF FILIPINOS

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Japan proclaimed the "Independence" of the Philippines today in a series of propaganda broadcasts and announced the inauguration of Jose P. Laurel as first president of a puppet "Republic government" set up under the thumb of Japanese armed forces.

The Office of War Information quoted the Tokyo radio as saying that Laurel took the oath of office in Manila at 9:40 a. m. (8:40 p. m. eastern war time Wednesday) and 10 minutes later issued "the declaration of independence of the Philippine Republic."

"Example Of Justice"

Laurel, according to the Tokyo broadcast hailed Japan as "the great power of East Asia" who was granting the Filipinos their freedom "as an example of justice in the history of mankind."

"The empire of Japan, which in this great war has the mission to liberate the oppressed races," Laurel's proclamation said, "has banished Occidental domination from the Philippines and has collaborated with all the means at her disposal in the formation of the independent Philippine nation. We have now attained the glory of seeing the honor of the national race restored."

"Before the world we are now a free and independent people. Henceforth we shall not belong to any foreign power. All rights and interests of the nation will be re-integrated and guarded. For national defense and in order to maintain our independence, we pledge all our resources for the defense of the fatherland."

The Hudson valley in New York state was discovered by the Dutch in 1624.

Favor More Pay For Dependents

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—An expansive and generous mood settled over the House today as it prepared to open debate on legislation to provide more money for the dependents of men in the armed forces.

There was considerable talk of voting $100 a month for a wife with two children, instead of the present $72.

Chairman May (D-Ky) took cognizance of the spreading spirit of liberality but predicted nevertheless that the scale recommended by his military committee—$75 for a wife and one child, $95 for a wife with two children, and $15 extra for each additional child—would be upheld when the vote comes, probably tomorrow.

KAISER SINGS WITH WORKERS

Johnsville, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser told workers at the Brewster Aeronautical corporation last night that "our union problems are ended," and then led them in singing, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

Some 6,000 employees attended two rallies, for the day and night shifts, and cheered wildly. Two women and a man fainted at the night assembly. It was Kaiser's first appearance before the workers since he was made president of the company.

Thomas De Lorenzo, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) local at the plant, shared the platform with Kaiser.

"You tell 'em you work for Tom De Lorenzo and Henry Kaiser," said the shipbuilder. "That's the way it will be from now on. Your union problems are ended."

De Lorenzo announced that four guards whose arrest by the Navy touched off a strike at the plant six weeks ago would return as production employees.

Rockets Slow Up German Fighters

London, Oct. 14 (AP)—American airmen operating from British bases are encountering increasing numbers of slower twin-engined German fighter planes, says Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, "because the Hun has been turning to aerial rockets for defense against our attacks and the rocket apparatus is simply too much for single engine fighters."

The trouble with rocket strategy, the commander of the U. S. Eighth Air Force Fighter Command asserted today in a "Stars and Stripes" interview is that to be effective the German planes must be well within range of American guns.

Swedish newspapers meanwhile reported a German claim that a new Nazi fighter plane was equipped to fire projectiles capable of blowing a four engine bomber to bits with a single shot.

Work Stoppage In Coal Mines

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 14 (AP)—Operations at five Alabama coal mines were hampered today by a work stoppage described by both union and operator spokesmen as resulting from government release of the mines to their owners.

In addition, a sixth mine was held idle by a local dispute. Approximately 2,500 miners were affected in all.

Rain Today Halts Timberland Fire

State College, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Some 400 acres of timber land on Tussey mountain, three miles west of here, were burned in a forest fire which was brought under control by 150 fire fighters early today after rain had checked the flames.

The fire, which started at 8 p. m. last night, for a time threatened an adjoining state forest and the Penn State Ski Trail nearby. District Forester T. Roy Morton estimated damage at $15,000.

JAPS DECLARE "INDEPENDENCE" OF FILIPINOS

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Japan proclaimed the "independence" of the Philippines today in a series of propaganda broadcasts and announced the inauguration of Jose P. Laurel as first president of a puppet "Republic government" set up under the thumb of Japanese armed forces.

The Office of War Information quoted the Tokyo radio as saying that Laurel took the oath of office in Manila at 9:40 a. m. (8:40 p. m. eastern war time Wednesday) and 10 minutes later issued "the declaration of independence of the Philippine Republic."

"Example Of Justice" Laurel, according to the Tokyo broadcast hailed Japan as "the great power of East Asia" who was granting the Filipinos their freedom "as an example of justice in the history of mankind."

"The empire of Japan, which in this great war has the mission to liberate the oppressed races," Laurel's proclamation said, "has banished Occidental domination from the Philippines and has collaborated with all the means at her disposal in the formation of the independent Philippine nation. We have now attained the glory of seeing the honor of the national race restored."

"Before the world we are now a free and independent people. Henceforth we shall not belong to any foreign power. All rights and interests of the nation will be reintegrated and guarded. For national defense and in order to maintain our independence, we pledge all our resources for the defense of the fatherland."

The Hudson valley in New York state was discovered by the Dutch in 1624.

Favor More Pay For Dependents

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—An expansive and generous mood settled over the House today as it prepared to open debate on legislation to provide more money for the dependents of men in the armed forces.

There was considerable talk of voting $100 a month for a wife with two children, instead of the present $72.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) took cognizance of the spreading spirit of liberality but predicted nevertheless that the scale recommended by his military committee—$75 for a wife and one child, $95 for a wife with two children, and $15 extra for each additional child—would be upheld when the vote comes, probably tomorrow.

Truckers Back At Work; Will Strike

Atlanta, Oct. 14 (AP)—Nearly all of the 8,500 striking truck drivers in six southern states returned to their jobs today, but the vote to go back, a Memphis union spokesman said, was coupled with a notice to strike if the War Labor Board does not take action on their wage raise request in 30 days.

John L. Bilger, president of the Memphis local of the teamsters, chauffeurs, warehousemen and helpers (AFL), said the week-long stoppage just ended was unauthorized, and the union now was notifying truck line operators of the strike intention.

This 30-day notice is required under the Smith-Connally act.

KAISER SINGS WITH WORKERS

Johnville, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser told workers at the Brewster Aeronautical corporation last night that "our union problems are ended," and then led them in singing, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

Some 6,000 employees attended two rallies, for the day and night shifts, and cheered wildly. Two women and a man fainted at the night assembly. It was Kaiser's first appearance before the workers since he was made president of the company.

Thomas De Lorenzo, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) local at the plant, shared the platform with Kaiser.

"You tell 'em you work for Tom De Lorenzo and Henry Kaiser," said the shipbuilder. "That's the way it will be from now on. Your union problems are ended."

De Lorenzo announced that four guards whose arrest by the Navy touched off a strike at the plant six weeks ago would return as production employees.

GOLF ODDITY

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 14 (AP)—Golfer Morgan Jones shot an ace on the 130-yard No. 14 hole. Five others in the party followed in order—and took two, three, four, five and six strokes. Jones was the high man for the round with 82—and the golfer who took six shots on the 14th won with a 73.

Rockets Slow Up German Fighters

London, Oct. 14 (AP)—American airmen operating from British bases are encountering increasing numbers of slower twin-engined German fighter planes, says Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, "because the Hun has been turning to aerial rockets for defense against our attacks and the rocket apparatus is simply too much for single engined fighters."

The trouble with rocket strategy, the commander of the U. S. Eighth Air Force Fighter Command asserted today in a "Stars and Stripes" interview is that to be effective the German planes must be well within range of American guns.

Swedish newspapers meanwhile reported a German claim that a new Nazi fighter plane was equipped to fire projectiles capable of blowing a four engined bomber to bits with a single shot.

"You tell 'em you work for Tom De Lorenzo and Henry Kaiser," said the shipbuilder. "That's the way it will be from now on. Your union problems are ended."

De Lorenzo announced that four guards whose arrest by the Navy touched off a strike at the plant six weeks ago would return as production employees.

12 Are Stricken By Poisoned Food

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—Twelve Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company workers were in Braddock General hospital today and a company spokesman said all apparently were poisoned by food they ate at the plant cafeteria.

At the hospital, their condition was reported "good."

The 12 were among 300 who had eaten at the cafeteria last night. All had partaken of veal croquettes, to which the plant medical department attributed their illness, the spokesman said. An analysis of the food was being made.

Work Stoppage In Coal Mines

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 14 (AP)—Operations at five Alabama coal mines were hampered today by a work stoppage described by both union and operator spokesmen as resulting from government release of the mines to their owners.

In addition, a sixth mine was held idle by a local dispute. Approximately 2,500 miners were affected in all.

Rain Today Halts Timberland Fire

State College, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Some 400 acres of timber land on Tussey mountain, three miles west of here, were burned in a forest fire which was brought under control by 150 fire fighters early today after rain had checked the flames.

The fire, which started at 8 p. m. last night, for a time threatened an adjoining state forest and the Penn State Ski Trail nearby. District Forester T. Roy Morton estimated damage at $15,000.

PEOPLE REBEL AGAINST FIRST "STAMP ACT"

Chapter Three

Few families bearing the names of the early settlers remain. In the lists attached to each cemetery will be given the earlier interments, save those whose graves are not marked.

The earliest authentic grave is that of William Elder and wife who came from St. Mary's county in 1739 settling where Zentz now lives. His wife died the same year. Having no lumber to construct a coffin, they hollowed out a log, which was used instead. Some years after, he removed to the farm known as Clairvoux, taking his wife's remains with him, burying her on the farm where her tombstone can be seen today, although Bishop Elder erected a new one lately.

Krisse first settled where Baltimore street now is in Baltimore, he did not like a sand farm and left, going to Rocky Ridge where he settled on the farm now owned by Harlick. His son, who married Elizabeth Troxell, took up the land owned by E. F. Krisse. The land called "Brotherly Love" was patented by Jonathan Hays in 1757, now owned by W. Moser. The land owned by X. T. Zacharias was called "Mondorff" and "Single Delight." Peter Trovelli, "Good Luck" and "Benjamin's Good Luck" the "Shields' tract" "Caroline," "Sugar Camp" "Walnut Bottom," and George Rows tract "French Purchase."

The land north of town was called "Dothan's Chance," east was "Silver Fancy" and south, "Buck's Forest."

The survey of Mason and Dixon's line commenced December 1, 1763, finished January 9, 1768.

The following is the line from Monocacy to Friends' creek, August 26, 1765. Starting at Monocacy, 73 miles, 58 chains, cross Marsh creek, McKimley's house, 80 miles, 21 chains, 77 stone falling in Marsh creek, 125 yards of true place, 82 miles, 66 chains, Matthew Elder's house, 52 chains south, August 29, 84 miles 41 chains, cross Flat run, 85 miles James Stevenson's house, 86 miles William Bowers' house, 86 miles, cross Tom's creek at foot of South mountain, 86 miles, 76 chains, Phineas Davidson's house, 87 miles 76 chains cross Friends' creek South mountain, 88 miles John Cohorn's house.

While the French and Indian war was in progress, recruiting officers went into the harvest field, took two men from along the Monocacy and both were killed in Braddock's defeat. During one of the Indian raids through this section Alexander McKesey, near Emmitsburg was standing in his door and was shot and killed. A Mr. William House in this county was attacked and 12 of his family were killed.

Indians Roam Land
After the defeat of Braddock many bands of Indians roamed over the western part of Maryland, penetrating quiet settlements and alarming the people, they feeling by night some to Frederick and others to Fort Cumberland. In 1756 Washington said but two families in the whole settlement of Conococheague, Maryland, remained. That year Washington advised the people between Conococheague and Fredericktown to assemble, which they did. With Colonel Cresup at the head of 100 men of courage, known as the Red Caps, they overthrew the Indians and killed some of them. All along the Monocacy the people fled, fearing the red skins. Armed citizens drove the Indians out. The trials of that age can only be imagined, the realities were shocking, any catastrophe could be expected, the people lived in hourly dread, not knowing when they would be murdered or carried away as captives. The foregoing and the following is told to impress the perilous and uncertain crisis through which the colonies were passing, for it was in the beginning of the formative period.

At this time, the Stamp Act was causing the people to rebel. It was as much hated as were the Indians. The same brave men who punished the Indians now assembled to resist the Stamp Act.

Stamp Act Revolt

At Annapolis, Maryland, a merchant of that town Zacharias Hood, brought with him from England a cargo of goods, together with the obvious stamps. When he arrived at Annapolis the ferment reached its height. The people gathered in crowds at the dock and an outbreak ensued, in which one of the number had his leg broken. Hood was compelled to draw off from the shore and land elsewhere.

The effigy of a stamp distributor was mounted on a one-horse cart, with a sheet of paper in his hands, and paraded through the streets amid execrations of the crowd, while bells tolled a solemn knell, the procession marching to the hull, tied the effigy to the whipping post, and bestowed upon it 39 lashes, giving the crowd humorously called giving the Mosaic law to the Stamp Act. It was then hung upon a gibbet erected for the purpose, a tall barrel placed under it, and set on fire. It ignited, fell into the blaze and was consumed. Similar was the exhibition at Baltimore and Fredericktown. Hood's punishment did not stop with his degradation. No one would buy his goods. The populace threatened to tear down his house. At last they threatened him with personal vengeance, he fled from the province. He did not stop until he reached New York. The people determined no stamp officer should escape, he was seized and given the alternative of resigning his office or being conducted back to Maryland, he yielded and was set at liberty.

Claims Are Postponed

While the two Houses at Annapolis were disputing whether they should pay the claims of all equally deserving whose demands had been included in the bill, the lower House agreed to all out the clerks of the council, and refused to separate the journal. In the meantime all claims were postponed. The people in the western part of the state were interested, and their deepest feeling was aroused. At

New Houck Store

Formal opening of his new store on center square, Emmitsburg, was announced today by J. Edward Houck for the last 18 years proprietor of a general clothing store in Emmitsburg.

The new store, for men's clothing and shoes, is on the site of the former Dairy Lunch in a building purchased by Mr. Houck from the late Charles P. Houck. A modernized front of glass and aluminum was placed on the store this summer. One-half of the ground floor is used for the new store, with the eastern half having been made into a ladies' clothing store and gift shop three years ago by Mr. Houck. Mrs. Houck and two daughters, Fredericktown they gathered in force 400 men, armed with rifles and tomahawks, proceeded to declare their intention to march to Annapolis and settle the dispute between them. It was an exciting time in the colonies. The spirit of 1776 was in the air although that time had not arrived.

The Frederick county court had the high honor of first deciding in a legal manner the unconstitutionality of the Stamp Act. This decision was received with joy, and the people hastened to celebrate so important an event. A festival took place in Fredericktown on November 30, 1765. The Sons of Liberty in funeral procession, in honor of the death of the Stamp Act, marched through the streets bearing a coffin, on which was inscribed, "The Stamp Act expired of a mortal stab from the genius of liberty in Frederick County Court November, 1765 aged 22 days." The late Zacharias Hood was chief mourner in effigy, the whole affair ended merrily in a ball.

Mary Theresa and Margaret Houck have been operating the women's store since that time.

Born in Emmitsburg, Mr. Houck worked in Cumberland, Maryland, and Pittsburgh before returning to Emmitsburg 18 years ago. In Pittsburgh he was general foreman for a number of light munition plants during the last war. He was an inspector and foreman there for 10 years. Besides the two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Houck have one son, J. Edward Houck, Jr.

The foregoing has been related to show the time our ancestors passed through the excitement, the deprivation the anxiety that awaited them at every turning point in Frederick county history.

A meeting convened at the old school house, not far from the main built by John Troxell in 1778 on Tom's creek, Sunday, August 28, 1770. The meeting was largely attended by the old inhabitants, who were deeply impressed by the situation. There were present on that occasion William Blair (old Scotch descent), James Shields, St. William Shields, Charles Robinson, Patrick Haney, Robert Brown, Henry Hockensmith, Rudolf Need, Thomas Hughes, Thomas Martin, William Elder (son of Guy), Samuel Westfall, Moses Kenedy, Alexander Stewart, William Curren, Jr., Charles Carroll, Octavius S. Bowie, James Park Robert Agnew John Carlick, Frederick Troxell, Dominick Bradley, William Brawner, Henry Brooks and others. It was agreed by a show of hands that William Blair should be called to the chair, and John Farris appointed secretary of the meeting. The meeting was then addressed by Walter Dulaney and W. Elder who concluded by offering the following resolutions:

Resolved by the inhabitants of Tom's Creek Frederick county, in the Province of Maryland, loyal to their king and country That we reaffirm the great Magna Carta of our civic and religious rights as granted by Charles of England to Lord Baltimore and the inhabitants of this colony as reaffirmed on the first landing of the pilgrim fathers of Maryland. That there shall be a

PEOPLE REBEL AGAINST FIRST "STAMP ACT"

Chapter Three

Few families bearing the names of the early settlers remain. In the lists attached to each cemetery will be given the earlier interments, save those whose graves are not marked.

The earliest authentic grave is that of William Elder and wife who came from St. Mary's county in 1739, settling where Zentz now lives. His wife died the same year. Having no lumber to construct a coffin, they hollowed out a log, which was used instead. Some years after, he removed to the farm known as Clairvoux, taking his wife's remains with him, burying her on the farm where her tombstone can be seen today, although Bishop Elder erected a new one lately.

Krise first settled where Baltimore street now is in Baltimore; he did not like a sand farm and left, going to Rocky Ridge where he settled on the farm now owned by Barrick. His son, who married Elizabeth Troxell, took up the land owned by E. F. Krise. The land called "Brotherly Love" was patented by Jonathan Hays in 1757, now owned by W. Moser. The land owned by X. T. Zacharias was called "Mondolar" and "Single Delight"; Peter Troxell's, "Diggs" Lot; and Benjamin's Good Luck"; the Shields' tract, "Caroline." "Sugar Camp," "Walnut Bottom," and George Row's tract, "French Purchase."

Survey of Line

The land north of town was called "Dothan's Chance," east was "Silver Fancy" and south, "Buck's Forrest."

The survey of Mason and Dixon's line commenced December 1, 1763, finished January 9, 1768.

The following is the line from Monocacy to Friends' creek, August 26, 1765: Starting at Monocacy, 73 miles, 65 chains; cross Marsh creek, McKinley's house, 80 miles, 21 chains; 77 stone falling in Marsh creek, 125 yards of true place, 82 miles, 66 chains, Matthew Elder's house, 52 chains south; August 29, 84 miles, 41 chains, cross Flat run; 85 miles, James Stevenson's house; 86 miles, William Bowers' house; 86 miles, cross Tom's creek at foot of South mountain; 86 miles, 76 chains, Phineas Davidson's house; 87 miles, 76 chains, cross Friends' creek, South mountain; 88 miles, John Cohorn's house.

Whilst the French and Indian war was in progress, recruiting officers went into the harvest field, took two men from along the Monocacy, and both were killed in Braddock's defeat. During one of the Indian raids through this section Alexander McKesey, near Emmitsburg, was standing in his door and was shot and killed. A Mr. William House in this county was attacked and 12 of his family were killed.

Indians Roam Land

After the defeat of Braddock many bands of Indians roamed over the western part of Maryland, penetrating quiet settlements and alarming the people, they fleeing by night, some to Frederick and others to Fort Cumberland. In 1756 Washington said that two families in the whole settlement of Conococheague, Maryland, remained. That year Washington advised the people between Conococheague and Fredericktown to assemble, which they did. With Colonel Cresup at the head of 100 men of courage, known as the Red Caps, they overthrew the Indians and killed some of them. All along the Monocacy the people fled, fearing the red skins. Armed citizens drove the Indians out. The trials of that age can only be imagined, the realities were shocking, any catastrophe could be expected; the people lived in hourly dread, not knowing when they would be murdered or carried away as captives. The foregoing and the following is told to impress the perilous and uncertain crisis through which the colonies were passing, for it was in the beginning of the formative period.

At this time, the Stamp Act was causing the people to rebel. It was as much hated as were the Indians. The same brave men who punished the Indians now assembled to resist the Stamp Act.

Stamp Act Revolt

At Annapolis, Maryland, a merchant of that town, Zacharias Hood, brought with him from England a cargo of goods, together with the obnoxious stamps. When he arrived at Annapolis the ferment reached its height. The people gathered in crowds at the dock and an outbreak ensued, in which one of the number had his leg broken. Hood was compelled to draw off from the shore and land elsewhere.

The effigy of a stamp distributor was mounted on a one-horse cart, with a sheet of paper in his hands, and paraded through the streets amid execrations of the crowd, while bells tolled a solemn knell, the procession marching to the hill, tied the effigy to the whipping post, and bestowed upon it 39 lashes, which the crowd humorously called giving the Mosaic law to the Stamp Act. It was then hung upon a gibbet erected for the purpose, a tar barrel placed under it, and set on fire. It ignited, fell into the blaze and was consumed. Similar was the exhibition at Baltimore and Fredericktown. Hood's punishment did not stop with his degradation. No one would buy his goods. The populace threatened to tear down his house. At last they threatened him with personal vengeance; he fled from the province. He did not stop until he reached New York. The people determining no stamp officer should escape, he was seized and given the alternative of resigning his office or being conducted back to Maryland; he yielded and was set at liberty.

Claims Are Postponed

While the two Houses at Annapolis were disputing whether they should pay the claims of all equally deserving, whose demands had been included in the bill, the lower House agreed to all but the clerks of the council, and refused to separate the journal. In the meantime all claims were postponed. The people in the western part of the state were interested, and there the deepest feeling was aroused. At

New Houck Store

Formal opening of his new store on center square, Emmitsburg, was announced today by J. Edward Houck, for the last 18 years proprietor of a general clothing store in Emmitsburg.

The new store, for men's clothing and shoes, is on the site of the former Dairy Lunch in a building purchased by Mr. Houck from the late Charles P. Mort. A modernized front of glass and aluminite was placed on the store this summer. One-half of the ground floor is used for the new store, with the eastern half having been made into a ladies' clothing store and gift shop three years ago by Mr. Houck. Mrs. Houck and two daughters, Fredericktown they gathered in force, 400 men armed, with rifles and tomahawks, proceeded to declare their intention to march to Annapolis and settle the dispute between them. It was an exciting time in the colonies. The spirit of 1776 was in the people, although that time had not arrived.

The Frederick county court had the high honor of first deciding in a legal manner the unconstitutionality of the Stamp Act. This decision was received with joy, and the people hastened to celebrate so important an event. A festival took place in Fredericktown on November 30, 1765. The Sons of Liberty in funeral procession, in honor of the death of the Stamp Act, marched through the streets bearing a coffin, on which was inscribed, "The Stamp Act expired of a mortal stab from the genius of liberty in Frederick County Court November, 1765, aged 22 days." The late Zacharias Hood was chief mourner in effigy; the whole affair ended merrily in a ball.

Mary Theresa and Margaret Houck, have been operating the women's store since that time.

Born in Emmitsburg, Mr. Houck worked in Cumberland, Maryland, and Pittsburgh before returning to Emmitsburg 18 years ago. In Pittsburgh he was general foreman for a number of light munition plants during the last war. He was an inspector and foreman there for 10 years. Besides the two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Houck have one son, J. Edward Houck, Jr.

Town Meeting

The foregoing has been related to show the time our ancestors passed through; the excitement, the deprivation, the anxiety that awaited them at every turning point in Frederick county history.

A meeting convened at the old school house, not far from the mill built by John Troxell in 1778 on Tom's creek, Sunday, August 28, 1770. The meeting was largely attended by the old inhabitants, who were deeply impressed by the situation. There were present on that occasion William Blair (old Scotch descent), James Shields, Sr., William Shields, Charles Robinson, Patrick Haney, Robert Brown, Henry Hockensmith, Rudolf Need, Thomas Hughes, Thomas Martin, William Elder (son of Guy), Samuel Westfall, Moses Kenedy, Alexander Stewart, William Curren, Jr., Charles Carroll, Octavius S. Bowie, James Park, Robert Agnew, John Carrick, Frederick Troxell, Dominick Bradley, William Brawner, Henry Brooks and others. It was agreed by a show of hands that William Blair should be called to the chair, and John Farris appointed secretary of the meeting. The meeting was then addressed by Walter Dulaney and W. Elder, who concluded by offering the following resolutions:

"Resolved by the inhabitants of Tom's Creek, Frederick county, in the Province of Maryland, loyal to their king and county, That we reaffirm the great Magna Carta of our civic and religious rights, as granted by Charles of England to Lord Baltimore and the inhabitants of this colony, as reaffirmed on the first landing of the pilgrim fathers of Maryland. The resolution was read and re-read and adopted by a showing of hands. It was further

"Resolved, that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Annapolis Gazette and Bradford paper at Philadelphia."

PLACES BAN ON SURPRISE AIR RAID DRILLS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The State council of defense today banned all surprise air raid drills and blackouts in Pennsylvania until further notice but warned the Army might order real alarms or tests at any time.

Director Ralph Cooper Hutchison said the civilian defense system is working so smoothly that surprise rehearsals will be dropped and monthly mobilizations of defense corps workers substituted. "The public will not participate in the new drill."

"The State council of defense has decided to postpone, until further notice, all surprise practice air raid drills and blackouts unless they are ordered directly by the army," he said in a statement.

Held 22 Tests

Noting 14 blackouts and eight daylight tests were staged so "the public might learn its duties and also learn to work with the citizens defense corps," Dr. Hutchison declared.

"This phase of training is now completed."

The director said the last blackout was "the best ever held."

Assessing time lost to war plants by drills could not be justified once the necessary lessons were learned, Dr. Hutchison added.

"In postponing public practices, we are also guided by the military situation and the recent action of the army in curtailing its volunteer aircraft warning organization."

"While we do not appear at present to be in danger of large-scale, sustained bombing, we are still open to token raids. Full 24 hour manning of our warning district centers and control centers is more imperative than ever."

"If present military conditions should change, the State council of defense will revise its blackout policy accordingly."

Bonneauville

Bonneauville—The Most Reverend George L. Leech, Bishop of Harrisburg, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to a class of 44 girls and 44 boys in St. Joseph's church Monday evening. Bishop Leech was assisted by Father Hartnett, of New Oxford, acting as deacon and Father Weber, of Littlestown as sub-deacon. Father Cyril Allwein, of McSherrystown, was master of ceremonies. Other priests present in the sanctuary were Monsignor McGee and Father Weidner, of McSherrystown; Father O'Flynn and Father McElwee, of Hanover; Father Crowley of Buchanan Valley; Father Burke, of Paradise, and the pastor of the church, Father Krichen.

ERROL FLYNN AGAIN FACES GIRL CHARGES

Los Angeles, Oct. 14 (AP)—For the third time, debonair Errol Flynn of the films is facing an allegation that he was indiscreet with a "teenage girl."

Blonde Shirley Evans Hassau, Los Angeles housewife, alleges in a civil action that the handsome actor is the father of her almost three-year-old daughter, born November 13, 1940, and whom she has named Marylyn Evans Flynn.

Last February Flynn was acquitted by a jury of criminal offense charges brought by show girl Peggy Lurie Satterlee, who was 18, and Betty Hansen, formerly of Lincoln, Nebraska, who was then 17, after he took the witness stand and emphatically denied the accusations.

In regard to Mrs. Hassau's suit, demanding $1750 monthly support for her child, $5,000 for medical care, $10,000 attorneys' fees and $2,000 court costs, the actor's attorney, Robert Ford, stated:

Denies Charges

"Anybody who has a filing fee can sue anyone for anything, but it is another thing to prove the charges. Mr. Flynn absolutely denies her charges."

Mrs. Hassau, 21, who was married last April to Henry Hassau, orchestra singer, alleged in her action Mary Jane, and son, Thomas, and Earl Bohn, of Altoona, spent the week-end with the Misses Emma and Mary Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Waganan, of Rivera Beach, Maryland, spent the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Waganan. Private Edward Smith, of New Cumberland, spent the week-end at his home here.

Corporal Roy Gebhart, of Rhode Island, is spending several days with his wife and father, H. N. Gebhart. Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Miller and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Hanover, Sunday evening.

OPPOSITION TO SCHOOL SUBSIDY PAYMENT GROWS

Argentina Cabinet Members Resign

Buenos Aires, Oct. 14 (AP)—The government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez has accepted the resignation of three cabinet members, all regarded as favoring a break with the Axis.

An official announcement last night said unity of the government would not be affected by the resignations.

Cabinet members who resigned were Jorge Santa Marina, Minister of Finance; Brig. Gen. Elbio Anaya, Minister of Justice and Public Education; and Vice Admiral Ismael Galindez, Minister of Public Works. Their withdrawals confronted the Ramirez government with probably its most serious crisis since it assumed power through the June 4 revolution.

(A Montevideo dispatch said the newspaper El Diario quoted private reports from Buenos Aires as saying the full cabinet had quit.)

filed yesterday that she met Flynn, in a night club in February, 1940, when she was 18. She asks a decree naming Flynn the father.

Late in 1940, court records disclosed, Flynn was sued by the girl's mother, Mrs. Marion Taylor, for personal injuries he allegedly inflicted on Shirley in November of that year. Mrs. Hassau's attorney, Charles B. Taylor, said the film star paid a settlement of $2,000.

Taylor said that although Flynn was released by the settlement from further claims by Mrs. Hassau, the baby was not covered by it and therefore the child is included as a plaintiff in the present action.

schools" as the Senate took up legislation to distribute $300,000,000 a year among local educational funds.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) told reporters he was alarmed over the possibility such a step might lead to the "federalization of the public school system."

Senator Bushfield (R-SD) said government control was "inevitable under this complete reversal of policy in the American government."

Two Proposals

The measure, on which Senator Thomas (D-Utah), joint sponsor with Senator Hill (D-Ala) said he would open debate today, would authorize:

1. Distribution, on an enrolled scholar basis, of $200,000,000 annually, to supplement state and local funds for the payment of teachers during war and other emergencies.
2. Distribution of an additional $100,000,000 on the basis of financial needs of the states to "equalize educational opportunities" in the poorer states. This would be a permanent policy under the bill.

The sponsors said that at least 10,000 teachers now receive less than $300 a year.

The first settlement in Rhode Island was made in 1836 by Roger Williams.

FINANCIAL AIDS FOR AIRPORTS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania communities of more than 5,000 population were urged by the State Aeronautics Commission to draw up plans for airports to qualify early for financial aid after the war.

The new Pennsylvania air development plan advanced by the agency yesterday calls for more than 70 new or improved airports over the state to give commercial air service to all towns of more than 5,000 population.

William L. Anderson, secretary, said, "the commission will make no attempt to locate or recommend any specific site for an airport" and "selections should be made by local authorities with the advice and cooperation of the commission."

Floyd Chalfant, Commission chairman and Secretary of Commerce, asserted the development program will be "a practical blueprint for the stimulation of aviation" in peace-time.

He said that although Pennsylvania's 137 airports are more than any other state has, the commonwealth needs:

Forty-nine more to provide minimum commercial service in places not now served by public landing fields;

Twenty-one airports for minimum service for cities now served by airports which cannot be expanded adequately; and expansion of 13 other airports.

In addition, Chalfant said special studies should be made of the need for additional facilities in the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas.

Seek Probe Of War Expenses

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Further evidence that Congress wants an accounting of war expenditures was given today by a House Naval subcommittee which indicated its inquiry into the production failures at the Brewster Aeronautical Corporation would be extended to other Naval procurement "headaches."

From Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal and other ranking Naval procurement officials, the committee drew declarations that Brewster's delays in turning out fighting planes and bombers could be attributed jointly to "labor troubles" and "weak management."

Navy Must Explain

But members of the committee flatly served notice that the Navy itself would be held to an accounting for the situation at Brewster and would be required to explain in detail why it has not cracked down on the management-labor difficulties or cancelled its contracts long ago.

"Brewster," said Forrestal yesterday, "has been a continuing headache. Although the Navy's bomber production was to have been completed by June, 1942, the first acceptable bomber did not come off the production line until October, 1942 and the work will not be finished until next December — 18 months behind schedule."

"Brewster delivers its first fighter in June, 1943. It had been scheduled almost ten months earlier."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—President Judge G. Malcolm McDonald in Common Pleas court commented Detective Inspector Walter Monaghan for the slaying of Matthew Kozera, ex-convict accused of killing county detective Albert T. Lorch 10 days ago.

McDonald said city and county officers have done such a good job of battling organized crime that "the professional criminal steers clear of our district."

PLACES BAN ON SURPRISE AIR RAID DRILLS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The State council of defense today banned all surprise air raid drills and blackouts in Pennsylvania until further notice but warned the Army might order real alarms or tests at any time.

Director Ralph Cooper Hutchison said the civilian defense system is working so smoothly that surprise rehearsals will be dropped and monthly mobilizations of defense corps workers substituted. The public will not participate in the new drills.

"The State council of defense has decided to postpone, until further notice, all surprise practice air raid drills and blackouts unless they are ordered directly by the army," he said in a statement.

Held 22 Tests

Noting 14 blackouts and eight daylight tests were staged so "the public might learn its duties and also learn to work with the citizens defense corps," Dr. Hutchison declared:

"This phase of training is now completed."

The director said the last blackout was "the best ever held."

Asserting time lost to war plants by drills could not be justified once the necessary lessons were learned, Dr. Hutchison added:

"In postponing public practices, we are also guided by the military situation and the recent action of the army in curtailing its volunteer aircraft warning organization."

"While we do not appear at present to be in danger of large-scale, sustained bombing, we are still open to token raids. Full 24 hour manning of our warning district centers and control centers is more imperative than ever."

"If present military conditions should change, the State council of defense will revise its blackout policy accordingly."

Bonneauville

Bonneauville—The Most Reverend George L. Leech, Bishop of Harrisburg, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to a class of 44 girls and 44 boys in St. Joseph's church Monday evening. Bishop Leech was assisted by Father Hartnett, of New Oxford, acting as deacon and Father Weber, of Littlestown, as sub-deacon. Father Cyril Allwein, of McSherrystown, was master of ceremonies. Other priests present in the sanctuary were Monsignor McGee and Father Weidner, of McSherrystown; Father O'Flynn and Father McElwee, of Hanover; Father O'Donnell, of Conewago; Father Crowley of Buchanan Valley; Father Burke, of Paradise, and the pastor of the church, Father Krichen.

ERROL FLYNN AGAIN FACES GIRL CHARGES

Los Angeles, Oct. 14 (AP)—For the third time, debonair Errol Flynn of the films is facing an allegation that he was indiscreet with a teenage girl.

"Blonde Shirley Evans Hassau, Los Angeles housewife, alleges in a civil action that the handsome actor is the father of her almost three-year-old daughter, born November 13, 1940, and whom she has named Marylyn Evans Flynn."

Last February Flynn was acquitted by a jury of criminal offense charges brought by show girl Peggy Larue Satterlee, who was 16, and Betty Hansen, formerly of Lincoln, Nebraska, who was then 17, after he took the witness stand and emphatically denied the accusations.

In regard to Mrs. Hassau's suit, demanding $1,750 monthly support for her child, $5,000 for medical care, $10,000 attorneys' fees and $2,000 court costs, the actor's attorney, Robert Ford, stated:

Denies Charges

"Anybody who has a filing fee can sue anyone for anything, but it is another thing to prove the charges. Mr. Flynn absolutely denies her charges."

Two Proposals

The measure, on which Senator Thomas (D-Utah), joint sponsor with Senator Hill (D-Ala) said he would open debate today, would authorize:

1. Distribution, on an enrolled scholar basis, of $200,000,000 annually, to supplement state and local funds for the payment of teachers during war and other emergencies.

2. Distribution of an additional $100,000,000 on the basis of financial needs of the states to "equalize educational opportunities" in the poorer states. This would be a permanent policy under the bill.

The sponsors said that at least 10,000 teachers now receive less than $300 a year.

The first settlement in Rhode Island was made in 1636 by Roger Williams.

Argentina Cabinet Members Resign

Buenos Aires, Oct. 14 (AP)—The government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez has accepted the resignation of three cabinet members, all regarded as favoring a break with the Axis.

An official announcement last night said unity of the government would not be affected by the resignations.

Cabinet members who resigned were Jorge Santa Marina, Minister of Finance; Brig. Gen. Elbio Anaya, Minister of Justice and Public Education, and Vice Admiral Ismael Galindez, Minister of Public Works. Their withdrawals confronted the Ramirez government with probably its most serious crisis since it assumed power through the June 4 revolution.

(A Montevideo dispatch said the newspaper El Diario quoted private reports from Buenos Aires as saying the full cabinet had quit.)

FINANCIAL AIDS FOR AIRPORTS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania communities of more than 5,000 population were urged by the State Aeronautics Commission to draw up plans for airports to qualify early for financial aid after the war.

The new Pennsylvania air development plan advanced by the agency yesterday calls for more than 70 new or improved airports over the state to give commercial air service to all towns of more than 5,000 population.

William L. Anderson, secretary, said, "the commission will make no attempt to locate or recommend any specific site for an airport" and "selections should be made by local authorities with the advice and cooperation of the commission."

Floyd Chalfant, Commission chairman and Secretary of Commerce, asserted the development program will be "a practical blueprint for the stimulation of aviation" in peace-time.

He said that although Pennsylvania's 137 airports are more than any other state has, the commonwealth needs:

Forty-nine more to provide minimum commercial service in places not now served by public landing fields;

Twenty-one airports for minimum service for cities now served by airports which cannot be expanded adequately; and expansion of 13 other airports.

In addition, Chalfant said special studies should be made of the need for additional facilities in the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas.

Seek Probe Of War Expenses

By ALEX H. SINGLETON Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Further evidence that Congress wants an accounting of war expenditures was given today by a House Naval subcommittee which indicated its inquiry into the production failures at the Brewster Aeronautical corporation would be extended to other Naval procurement "headaches."

From Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal and other ranking Naval procurement officials, the committee drew declarations that Brewster's delays in turning out fighting planes and bombers could be attributed jointly to "labor troubles" and "weak management."

Navy Must Explain

But members of the committee flatly served notice that the Navy itself would be held to an accounting for the situation at Brewster and would be required to explain in detail why it has not cracked down on the management-labor difficulties or cancelled its contracts long ago.

"Brewster," said Forrestal yesterday, "has been a continuing headache. Although the Navy's bomber production was to have been completed by June, 1942, the first acceptable bomber did not come off the production line until October, 1942 and the work will not be finished until next December—18 months behind schedule."

"Brewster delivers its first fighter in June, 1943. It had been scheduled almost ten months earlier."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—President Judge G. Malcolm McDonald in Common pleas court commented Detective Inspector Walter Monaghan for the slaying of Matthew Kozera, ex-convict accused of killing county detective Albert T. Lorch 10 days ago.

McDonald said city and county officers have done such a good job of battling organized crime that "the professional criminal steers clear of our district."

POSITION OF ITALY POSES MANY ISSUES

London, Oct. 14 (AP)—Italy's former misdeeds remained strongly alive today despite the Badoglio government's declaration of war against Germany and most unofficial quarters appeared to have adopted an attitude of wait-and-see.

The Daily Mail summed it up thus:

"Actions will count... The terms to defeated Italy can only be adjusted in the light of the assistance which she gives us. To put it another way—Italy will be punished for her misdeeds, but she may obtain remission for good conduct."

"Will Not Forget!"

No official comment has been forthcoming so far from the exiled governments of France, Greece, Yugoslavia and Albania—Italy's four chief victims—but men of those nationalities have emphasized that they and their compatriots will not forget easily.

"We certainly are not yet ready to fight shoulder to shoulder with them as Allies," declared one Greek. A high Yugoslav said he welcomed "anything that will shorten the war" but added that "if it means a move whereby any new Italian regime will be given concessions at the expense of the Yugoslav nation, battling now for life, we will be disappointed."

The provisional committee of directors of the Italian Socialist party in London was frankly antagonistic.

Suspicious Feeling

From Alsace came a startlingly some Frenchmen predicted the Italian declaration and the Allies' acceptance of the Badoglio government as a co-belligerent would not be welcomed by the French underground, particularly by those groups in southern France where the Italian occupation was most keenly felt.

One Frenchman, the Algiers dispatch said, declared the Allied acceptance of the Italians as co-belligerents might spread a feeling of suspicion regarding the ultimate objectives of the United Nations in Europe.

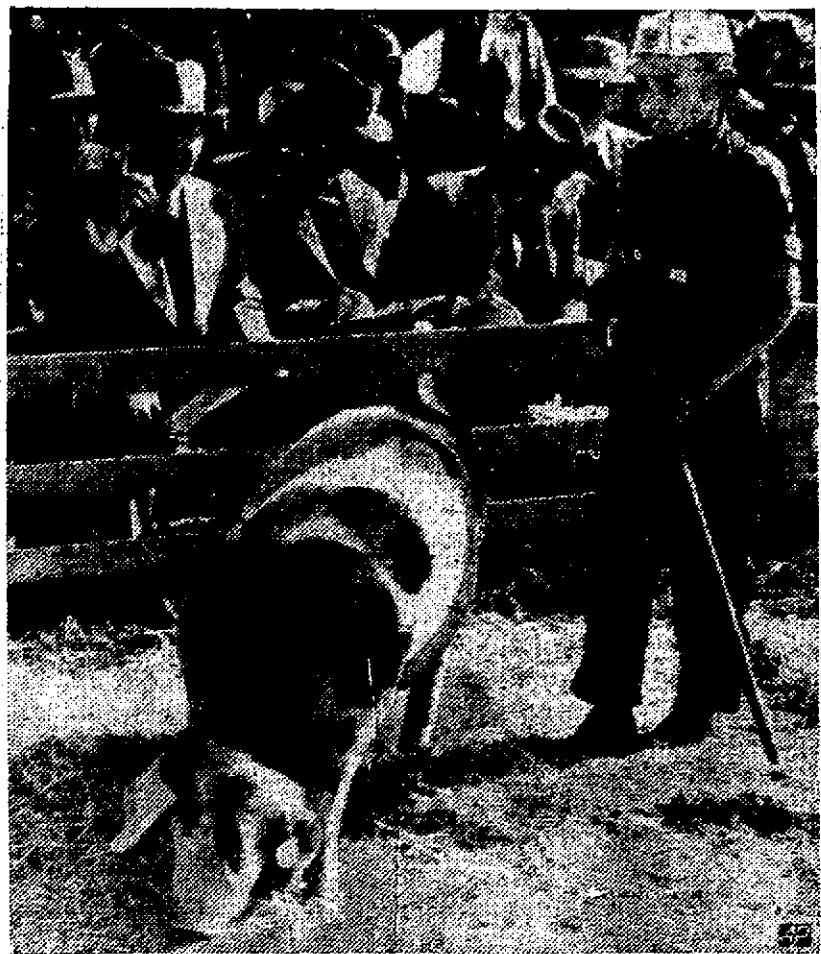

Favor Building Of Warren Dam First

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—Construction of the government's proposed flood-control dam at Warren prior to erection of the Conemaugh dam was urged by a Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce committee of engineers today as a means of neutralizing the Allegheny, the city's "river of acid."

Because of a shortage of materials and manpower, neither dam can be built until peace comes but the C. of C. group would like to see the Warren dam, 200 miles above Pittsburgh, built as soon as possible after the war ends.

The program of the U. S. Army Engineers, charged with erecting a

Rationing May Outlast War

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—How long will rationing, price ceilings and other wartime controls continue after the war ends?

A consensus of government and private post-war planners, reported to the Senate's Post-War committee by a subcommittee's investigators, is that some controls will have to continue to prevent an inflationary scramble.

The report speaks of a potential accumulation of 75 billion dollars which otherwise would be turned loose at year's end—a large part of which will burn the pockets of the consumers of motor cars, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and a thousand and one other products whose production has been cut off or greatly restricted by the war.

Then the report says: "All of the agencies interviewed believe that the threat of inflation is so great that wartime control must be continued with gradual relaxation as the stock bins become filled."

10-dam flood control fortress for western Pennsylvania, calls for prior construction of the other reservoir, 57 miles above Pittsburgh on the Conemaugh river.

Either dam, the C. of C. engineers said, will make a differential of about one foot in the flood stage here.

MARTIN BALKS EXTRA SESSION

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Talk among Republican leaders of a special legislative session to take up the question of separate state and Federal election ballots was stilled today after Governor Martin declared he saw "no reason for it now."

Martin told his press conference yesterday he had an open mind on advisability of separating Federal and state ballots but pointed out: "That question was discussed at the last session of the legislature. Quite a number of members were opposed to the split ballot and bills dealing with the matter died in committee."

Discussion of the issue arose with the possibility of a fourth term for President Roosevelt. National election issues would not conflict with voting on state contests, GOP leaders said, if the ballots were separated.

"There isn't anything that would prompt a special session of the legislature," the Governor asserted. "Any tax reduction can be carried over to the regular session of 1945." He said the 1943 act giving him power to suspend laws "will take care of the war effort so far as we can contemplate."

of vitamin B1 (thiamin) in pork can be doubled by improved feeding of hogs.

Dr. R. C. Miller, associate professor of agriculture and biological chemistry, said, "The pig is unique among animals in that he can absorb the extra vitamin from the food he eats and transfers it to his tissues." He said food rich in B1, such as red skins of peanuts and Brewer's yeast, would do the trick.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I want to thank you for sending me The Times. I really appreciate it a lot.

Well, friends, I am now in the hardest part of boot training there is. Our company went on K.P. duty for one solid week. The first day I bet I dished out over 1,500 bowls of soup. It really makes your arm tired. I want to tell my friends to keep writing and I will answer their letters just as soon as I finish K.P. week.

We get up about 3 o'clock every morning and work until 10 o'clock every night which is a very long day and I can't find much time to write many letters. We serve over 600 sailors at every covey. I must go and do my everyday washing now and believe me there is plenty of it. We wear our white uniforms and they get pretty dirty during the day.

Some of the fellows leave our company on Monday so we won't have so much cleaning to do. I must close now and I wish to hear from the folks back home.

Yours truly,

NEW COMPASS HELPS FLIERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Existence of a revolutionary new compass, which has been guiding United Nations bombers to their objectives and home again for months, was revealed today.

Charles Marcus, vice president in charge of engineering of Bendix Aviation corporation, said the compass was the result of seven years of research by the company, and its existence can be revealed now because one or more of them have fallen into enemy hands.

"There is no possibility that the enemy can catch up with us, however," he said, "because it will be impossible for them to duplicate the performance of this compass, much less get it into volume production during this war."

Marcus said the apparatus, known as the gyro flux gate compass, uses the earth's magnetic field to develop minute electrical impulses which,

Merger Of Unions Is Up To Mr. Lewis

Boston, Oct. 14 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor's gesture of welcome to the United Mine Workers put the question of the miners' re-affiliation up to their president, John L. Lewis, today.

The AFL convention attached a condition to its authorization of a charter for the UMW—jurisdictional issues must be negotiated first—but there was no mistaking the federation's willingness to readmit the Lewis union, not only with bona fide mine workers, but possibly even with other workers, provided they are not in the crafts claimed by AFL unions.

He added that the compass would not go off its reading in a dive or climb, will not "lay" or "overshoot" in a turn and will not oscillate in rough weather.

An advantage, Marcus said, is that no "correction card" is necessary, as it is with magnetic types, because the new compass gives fully corrected readings at all times.

It was made clear, too, that to come back Lewis would have to re-claim from his position that the AFL take the UMW "as is" and talk about jurisdictions after re-affiliation.

Matthew Woll, resolutions committee chairman, gave this assurance in pleading for adoption of a report giving the executive council authority to deal finally with Lewis. "This formula is designed to protect the interests of every affiliated organization," Woll said.

"Will Not Forget"

No official comment has been forthcoming so far from the exiled governments of France, Greece, Yugoslavia and Albania—Italy's four chief victims—but men of those nationalities have emphasized that they and their compatriots will not forget easily.

"We certainly are not yet ready to fight shoulder to shoulder with them as Allies," declared one Greek. A high Yugoslav said he welcomed "anything that will shorten the war" but added that "if it means a move whereby any new Italian regime will be given concessions at the expense of the Yugoslav nation, battling now for life, we will be disappointed."

The provisional committee of directors of the Italian Socialist party in London was frankly antagonistic.

Suspicious Feeling

From Algiers came a dispatch saying some Frenchmen predicted the Italian declaration and the Allies' acceptance of the Badoglio government as a co-belligerent would not be welcomed by the French underground, particularly by those groups in southern France where the Italian occupation was most keenly felt. One Frenchman, the Algiers dispatch said, declared the Allied acceptance of the Italians as co-belligerents might spread a feeling of suspicion regarding the ultimate objectives of the United Nations in Europe.

Favor Building Of Warren Dam First

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—Construction of the government's proposed flood-control dam at Warren prior to erection of the Conemaugh dam was urged by a Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce committee of engineers today as a means of neutralizing the Allegheny, the city's "river of acid."

Because of a shortage of materials and manpower, neither dam can be built until peace comes but the C. of C. group would like to see the Warren dam, 200 miles above Pittsburgh, built as soon as possible after the war ends.

Rationing May Outlast War

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—How long will rationing, price ceilings and other wartime controls continue after the war ends?

A consensus of government and private post-war planners, reported to the Senate's Post-War committee by a subcommittee's investigators, is that some controls will have to continue to prevent an inflationary scramble.

The report speaks of a potential accumulation of 75 billion dollars which otherwise would be turned loose at war's end—"a large part of which will burn the pockets of the consumers of motor cars, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and a thousand and one other products whose production has been cut off or greatly restricted by the war."

Then the report says: "All of the agencies interviewed believe that the threat of inflation is so great that wartime control must be continued with gradual relaxation as the stock bins become filled."

10-dam flood control fortress for western Pennsylvania, calls for prior construction of the other reservoir, 57 miles above Pittsburgh on the Conemaugh river.

Either dam, the C. of C. engineers said, will make a differential of about one foot in the flood stage here.

MARTIN BALKS EXTRA SESSION

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Talk among Republican leaders of a special legislative session to take up the question of separate state and Federal election ballots was stilled today after Governor Martin declared he saw "no reason for it now."

Martin told his press conference late yesterday he had an open mind on advisability of separating Federal and state ballots but pointed out: "That question was discussed at the last session of the legislature. Quite a number of members were opposed to the split ballot and bills dealing with the matter died in committee."

Discussion of the issue arose with the possibility of a fourth term for President Roosevelt. National election issues would not conflict with voting on state contests, GOP leaders said, if the ballots were separated.

"There isn't anything that would prompt a special session of the legislature," the Governor asserted. "Any tax reduction can be carried over to the regular session of 1945."

He said the 1943 act giving him power to suspend laws "will take care of the war effort so far as we can contemplate."

Dr. R. C. Miller, associate professor of agriculture and biological chemistry, said, "The pig is unique among animals in that he can absorb the extra vitamin from the food he eats and transfers it to his tissues." He said food rich in B1, such as red skins of peanuts and Brewer's yeast, would do the trick.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I want to thank you for sending me The Times. I really appreciate it a lot.

Well, friends, I am now in the hardest part of boot training there is. Our company went on K.P. duty for one solid week. The first day I bet I dished out over 1,500 bowls of soup. I really makes your arm tired. I want to tell my friends to keep writing and I will answer their letters just as soon as I finish K.P. week.

We get up about 3 o'clock every morning and work until 10 o'clock every night which is a very long day and I can't find much time to write many letters. We serve over 600 sailors at every chow. I must go and do my everyday washing now and believe me there is plenty of it. We wear our white uniforms and they get plenty dirty during the day.

Some of the fellows leave our company on Monday so we won't have so much cleaning to do. I must close now and I wish to hear from the folks back home.

Yours truly,
JOE BOSAK, A.S.

NEW COMPASS HELPS FLIERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Existence of a revolutionary new compass, which has been guiding United Nations bombers to their objectives and home again for months, was revealed today.

Charles Marcus, vice president in charge of engineering of Bendix Aviation corporation, said the compass was the result of seven years of research by the company, and its existence can be revealed now because one or more of them have fallen into enemy hands.

"There is no possibility that the enemy can catch up with us, however," he said, "because it will be impossible for them to duplicate the performance of this compass, much less get it into volume production during this war."

Marcus said the apparatus, known as the gyro flux gate compass, uses the earth's magnetic field to develop minute electrical impulses which,

Merger Of Unions Is Up To Mr. Lewis

Boston, Oct. 14 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor's gesture of welcome to the United Mine Workers put the question of the miners' reaffiliation up to their president, John L. Lewis, today.

The AFL convention attached a condition to its authorization of a charter for the UMW—jurisdictional issues must be negotiated first—but there was no mistaking the federation's willingness to readmit the Lewis union, not only with bona fide mine workers, but possibly even with other workers, provided they when amplified, turn the compass indicator.

He added that the compass would not go off its reading in a dive or climb, will not "lay" or "overshoot" in a turn and will not oscillate in rough weather.

An advantage, Marcus said, is that no "correction card" is necessary, as it is with magnetic types, because the new compass gives fully corrected readings at all times."

are not in the crafts claimed by AFL unions.

It was made clear, too, that to come back Lewis would have to recede from his position that the AFL take the UMW "as is" and talk about jurisdictions after reaffiliation.

Matthew Woll, resolutions committee chairman, gave this assurance in pleading for adoption of a report giving the executive council authority to deal finally with Lewis. "This formula is designed to protect the interests of every affiliated organization," Woll said.

PLACES BAN ON SURPRISE AIR RAID DRILLS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The State council of defense today banned all surprise air raid drills and blackouts in Pennsylvania until further notice but warned the Army might order real alarms or tests at any time.

Director Ralph Cooper Hutchison said the civilian defense system is working so smoothly that surprise rehearsals will be dropped and monthly mobilizations of defense corps workers substituted. The public will not participate in the new drills.

"The State council of defense has decided to postpone, until further notice, all surprise practice air raid drills and blackouts unless they are ordered directly by the army," he said in a statement.

Held 22 Tests

Nothing but blackouts and eight daylight tests were staged so "the public might learn its duties and also learn to work with the citizens defense corps," Dr. Hutchison declared.

"This phase of training is now completed."

"The director said the last blackout was "the best ever held."

Assessing time lost to war plants by drills could not be justified once the necessary lessons were learned, Dr. Hutchison added.

"In postponing public practices, we are also guided by the military situation and the recent action of the army in curtailing its volunteer aircraft warning organization."

"While we do not appear at present to be in danger of large-scale, sustained bombing, we are still open to token raids. Full 24 hour manning of our warning district centers and control centers is more imperative than ever."

"If present military conditions should change, the State council of defense will revise its blackout policy accordingly."

ERROL FLYNN AGAIN FACES GIRL CHARGES

Los Angeles, Oct. 14 (AP)—For the third time, debonair Errol Flynn of the films is facing an allegation that he was indiscreet with a teenage girl.

"Blonde Shirley Evans Hassau, Los Angeles housewife, alleges in a civil action that the handsome actor is the father of her almost three-year-old daughter, born November 13, 1940, and whom she has named Marilyn Evans Flynn.

Last February Flynn was acquitted by a jury of criminal offense charges brought by show girl Peggy Larue Satterlee, who was 16, and Betty Hansen, formerly of Lincoln, Nebraska, who was then 17, after he took the witness stand and emphatically denied the accusations.

In regard to Mrs. Hassau's suit, demanding $1,750 monthly support for her child, $5,000 for medical care, $10,000 attorneys' fees and $2,000 court costs, the actor's attorney, Robert Ford, stated:

"Anybody who has a filing fee can sue anyone for anything, but it is another thing to prove the charges. Mr. Flynn absolutely denies her charges."

Argentina Cabinet Members Resign

Buenos Aires, Oct. 14 (AP)—The government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez has accepted the resignation of three cabinet members, all regarded as favoring a break with the Axis.

An official announcement last night said unity of the government would not be affected by the resignations.

Cabinet members who resigned were Jorge Santa Marina, Minister of Finance; Brig. Gen. Elbio Anaya, Minister of Justice and Public Education, and Vice Admiral Ismael Galindez, Minister of Public Works.

Their withdrawals confronted the Ramirez government with probably its most serious crisis since it assumed power through the June 4 revolution.

(A Montevideo dispatch said the newspaper El Diario quoted private reports from Buenos Aires as saying the full cabinet had quit.)

schools" as the Senate took up legislation to distribute $300,000,000 a year among local educational funds.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) told reporters he was alarmed over the possibility such a step might lead to the "federalization of the public school system."

Senator Bushfield (R-SD) said government control was "inevitable under this complete reversal of policy in the American government."

Two Proposals

The measure, on which Senator Thomas (D-Utah), joint sponsor with Senator Hill (D-Ala.) said he would open debate today, would authorize:

1. Distribution, on an enrolled scholar basis, of $200,000,000 annually, to supplement state and local funds for the payment of teachers during war and other emergencies.

2. Distribution of an additional $100,000,000 on the basis of financial needs of the states to "equalize educational opportunities" in the poorer states. This would be a permanent policy under the bill.

The sponsors said that at least 10,000 teachers now receive less than $300 a year.

FINANCIAL AIDS FOR AIRPORTS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania communities of more than 5,000 population were urged by the State Aeronautics Commission to draw up plans for airports to qualify early for financial aid after the war.

The new Pennsylvania air development plan advanced by the agency yesterday calls for more than 70 new or improved airports over the state to give commercial air service to all towns of more than 5,000 population.

William L. Anderson, secretary, said, "the commission will make no attempt to locate or recommend any specific site for an airport" and "selections should be made by local authorities with the advice and cooperation of the commission."

Floyd Chalfant, Commission chairman and Secretary of Commerce, asserted the development program will be "a practical blueprint for the stimulation of aviation" in peace-time.

He said that although Pennsylvania's 137 airports are more than any other state has, the commonwealth needs:

Forty-nine more to provide minimum commercial service in places not now served by public landing fields;

Twenty-one airports for minimum service for cities now served by airports which cannot be expanded adequately; and expansion of 13 other airports.

In addition, Chalfant said special studies should be made of the need for additional facilities in the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas.

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Further evidence that Congress wants an accounting of war expenditures was given today by a House Naval subcommittee which indicated its inquiry into the production failures at the Brewster Aeronautical corporation would be extended to other Naval procurement "headaches."

From Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal and other ranking Naval procurement officials, the committee drew declarations that Brewster's delays in turning out fighting planes and bombers could be attributed jointly to "labor troubles" and "weak management."

But members of the committee flatly served notice that the Navy itself would be held to an accounting for the situation at Brewster and would be required to explain in detail why it has not cracked down on the management-labor difficulties or cancelled its contracts long ago.

RUSSIANS RACE TO CONQUER 4 NEW OBJECTIVES

(By The Associated Press)
London, Oct. 14.—Fall of four major German defense bastions on the Russian front, Melitopol and Zaporozh, gateways to the Crimea; Kiev, great fortress capital of the Ukraine, and Gomel, strategic rail land river center 170 miles east of the Polish frontier in White Russia—appeared almost inevitable today as the Red Army tore new gaps in wavering Nazi defenses.

A Soviet communique broadcast from Moscow said Russian troops already were fighting in the streets of Melitopol, and were battling the Germans on the outskirts of the other three. Capture of all four cities would jeopardize the whole German position in Russia and might force a gigantic withdrawal of the Nazi armies to secondary defense lines many miles to the west.

Enter Melitopol
Soviet troops, breaching formidable German defenses in the south Ukraine, forced the Molochna river and surged into the very center of Melitopol in the face of desperate resistance on the part of the defenders, the Soviet bulletin said.

The city is on one of two escape railways open to the German garrisons in the Crimea. Its capture would be a milestone in the Russian drive to isolate the Crimea from the north.

The Russians counted 4,000 German dead in their initial drive on the city.

A four-day battle to the north of Melitopol was said to have brought Soviet advance columns to within five miles of Zaporozh, on the southern end of the Dnieper river bend. Thirty enemy strong-points were shattered, several thousand Germans killed and stores of war material were captured in this drive, Moscow declared. This advance also threatens Dnepropetrovsk, Dnieper river power city, further north.

2 Miles From Kiev
In the battle of Kiev, Moscow said the Russians were fighting less than two miles from Kiev proper. Parts of the city were reported in flames, a possible hint that the enemy already had begun its destruction preparatory to retreat.

Rain and mud failed to halt the Red Army columns pounding the defenses of Gomel in White Russia. The Russians said they had hauled their big guns through almost impassable roads to the "immediate vicinity of Gomel" and shattered German lines outside the city. Soviet spearheads forced the Sozh river near where it flows through the center of the city and today were said to be mounting a final assault against this important anchor base of the German north Russian defense system.

SLAVS REPULSE BOCHE ATTACK

(By The Associated Press)
London, Oct. 14.—Strong German forces attempting to storm the town of Tuzla, industrial center dominating the plain leading to Belgrade, have been beaten back and are retreating westward toward Doboj, a commune of the Yugoslav National Liberation Army, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav radio, said today.

This stinging repulse of Nazi forces which for the past several days have been battling for this strategic strongpoint, followed by a few hours the announcement by Drug Tito's headquarters that the entire Italian Venezia Division, until recently fighting with the Germans, had come over to the patriot cause.

At the same time, however, Tito declared that the Chetnik forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovic, King Peter's field commander, and war minister, were arrayed with the Germans against the partisan forces of liberation.

Today's communique said that bitter but inconclusive fighting between partisan columns and German forces was raging around the cities of Ogulin, Karlovac and Zagreb in Croatia; Sibenik, Zara and Imotski in Dalmatia and along main railway arteries in Slovenia and on the Istrian peninsula.

POSITION OF ITALY POSES MANY ISSUES

London, Oct. 14 (AP)—Italy's former misdeeds remained strongly alive today despite the Badoglio government's declaration of war against Germany and most unofficial quarters appeared to have adopted an attitude of wait-and-see.

The Daily Mail summed it up thus:

"Actions will count . . . The terms to defeated Italy can only be adjusted in the light of the assistance which she gives us. To put it another way—Italy will be punished for her misdeeds, but she may obtain remission for good conduct."

"Will Not Forget"

No official comment has been forthcoming so far from the exiled governments of France, Greece, Yugoslavia and Albania—Italy's four chief victims—but men of those nationalities have emphasized that they and their compatriots will not forget easily.

"We certainly are not yet ready to fight shoulder to shoulder with them as Allies," declared one Greek. A high Yugoslav said he welcomed "anything that will shorten the war" but added that "if it means a move whereby any new Italian regime will be given concessions at the expense of the Yugoslav nation, battling now for life, we will be disappointed."

The provisional committee of directors of the Italian Socialist party in London was frankly antagonistic.

Suspicious Feeling

From Algiers came a dispatch saying some Frenchmen predicted the Italian declaration and the Allies' acceptance of the Badoglio government as a co-belligerent would not be welcomed by the French underground, particularly by those groups in southern France where the Italian occupation was most keenly felt.

One Frenchman, the Algiers dispatch said, declared the Allied acceptance of the Italians as co-belligerents might spread a feeling of suspicion regarding the ultimate objectives of the United Nations in Europe.

Favor Building Of Warren Dam First

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—Construction of the government's proposed flood-control dam at Warren prior to erection of the Conemaugh dam was urged by a Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce committee of engineers today as a means of neutralizing the Allegheny, the city's "river of acid."

Because of a shortage of materials and manpower, neither dam can be built until peace comes but the C. of C. group would like to see the Warren dam, 200 miles above Pittsburgh, built as soon as possible after the war ends.

The program of the U. S. Army Engineers, charged with erecting a

Rationing May Outlast War

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—How long will rationing, price ceilings and other wartime controls continue after the war ends?

A consensus of government and private post-war planners, reported to the Senate's Post-War committee by a subcommittee's investigators, is that some controls will have to continue to prevent an inflationary scramble.

The report speaks of a potential accumulation of 75 billion dollars which otherwise would be turned loose at war's end—a large part of which will burn the pockets of the consumers of motor cars, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and a thousand and one other products whose production has been cut off or greatly restricted by the war.

Then the report says: "All of the agencies interviewed believe that the threat of inflation is so great that wartime control must be continued with gradual relaxation as the stock bins become filled."

10-dam flood control fortress for western Pennsylvania, calls for prior construction of the other reservoir, 57 miles above Pittsburgh on the Conemaugh river.

Either dam, the C. of C. engineers said, will make a differential of about one foot in the flood stage here.

MARTIN BALKS EXTRA SESSION

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Talk among Republican leaders of a special legislative session to take up the question of separate state and Federal election ballots was stilled today after Governor Martin declared he saw "no reason for it now."

Martin told his press conference late yesterday he had an open mind on advisability of separating Federal and state ballots but pointed out:

"That question was discussed at the last session of the legislature. Quite a number of members were opposed to the split ballot and bills dealing with the matter died in committee."

Discussion of the issue arose with the possibility of a fourth term for President Roosevelt. National election issues would not conflict with voting on state contests, GOP leaders said, if the ballots were separated.

"There isn't anything that would prompt a special session of the legislature," the Governor asserted. "Any tax reduction can be carried over to the regular session of 1945."

He said the 1943 act giving him power to suspend laws "will take care of the war effort so far as we can contemplate."

of vitamin B1 (thiamin) in pork can be doubled by improved feeding of hogs.

Dr. R. C. Miller, associate professor of agriculture and biological chemistry, said, "The pig is unique among animals in that he can absorb the extra vitamin from the food he eats and transfers it to his tissues." He said food rich in B1, such as red skins of peanuts and Brewer's yeast, would do the trick.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I want to thank you for sending me The Times. I really appreciate it a lot.

Well, friends, I am now in the hardest part of boot training there is. Our company went on K.P. duty for one solid week. The first day I bet I dished out over 1,500 bowls of soup. It really makes your arm tired. I want to tell my friends to keep writing and I will answer their letters just as soon as I finish K.P. week.

We get up about 3 o'clock every morning and work until 10 o'clock every night which is a very long day and I can't find much time to write many letters. We serve over 600 sailors at everychow. I must go and do my everyday washing now and believe me there is plenty of it. We wear our white uniforms and they get plenty dirty during the day.

Some of the fellows leave our company on Monday so we won't have so much cleaning to do. I must close now and I wish to hear from the folks back home.

Yours truly,

NEW COMPASS HELPS FLIERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Existence of a revolutionary new compass, which has been guiding United Nations bombers to their objectives and home again for months, was revealed today.

Charles Marcus, vice president in charge of engineering of Bendix Aviation corporation, said the compass was the result of seven years of research by the company, and its existence can be revealed now because one or more of them have fallen into enemy hands.

"There is no possibility that the enemy can catch up with us, however," he said, "because it will be impossible for them to duplicate the performance of this compass, much less get it into volume production during this war."

Marcus said the apparatus, known as the gyro flux gate compass, uses the earth's magnetic field to develop minute electrical impulses which,

Merger Of Unions Is Up To Mr. Lewis

Boston, Oct. 14 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor's gesture of welcome to the United Mine Workers put the question of the miners' reaffiliation up to their president, John L. Lewis, today.

The AFL convention attached a condition to its authorization of a charter for the UMW—jurisdictional issues must be negotiated first—but there was no mistaking the federation's willingness to readmit the Lewis union, not only with bona fide mine workers, but possibly even with other workers, provided they when amplified, turn the compass indicator.

He added that the compass would not go off its reading in a dive or climb, will not "lay" or "overshoot" in a turn and will not oscillate in rough weather.

An advantage, Marcus said, is that no "correction card" is necessary, as it is with magnetic types, because the new compass gives fully corrected readings at all times."

are not in the crafts claimed by AFL unions.

It was made clear, too, that to come back Lewis would have to recede from his position that the AFL take the UMW "as is" and talk about jurisdictions after re-affiliation.

Matthew Woll, resolutions committee chairman, gave this assurance in pleading for adoption of a report giving the executive council authority to deal finally with Lewis. "This formula is designed to protect the interests of every affiliated organization," Woll said.

G-GIRL

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter I

It was a stifling day. The heat stretched over the city thick and motionless as an asbestos curtain. It pressed down on government clerks hurrying back to their buildings from lunch. It blasted the faces of the bustling men with briefcases as the swinging doors of the capital's air-cooled hotels deposited them on the scorched sidewalk.

But inside Temporary Building U, overlooking Pennsylvania Avenue and the Department of Commerce, Sally Thayer, two days removed from River Edge, Michigan, was oblivious of the steaming weather. A four-page questionnaire, covered with questions in small type, lay spread out in front of her. Sally had now reached the bottom of page four.

She gave the questionnaire a final look, hoping she hadn't made any mistakes then crossed the room to the receptionist's desk.

The receptionist looked quickly at the questionnaire and then said, "I'll have you see Mr. Chase when he is free. He takes care of all the stenographic help. Will you sit down?"

Sally found a chair at the end of a long row of men and women all clutching questionnaires. She tried to look composed, but actually she was so excited she was wondering how she could ever talk coherently to Mr. Chase.

Suppose she didn't get a job? Mr. Chase might think she hadn't experience enough to handle vital war correspondence. But I've got to get a job, any kind of a job, Sally thought desperately. After the send-off River Edge gave me and the way Mother and Dad carried on, I'd never dare show my face there again till I'd been a success.

The crisp tones of the receptionist cut like a knife through Sally's reveries. "Miss Thayer, see Mr. Chase in Room 1143 at the end of the hall." Sally's dream burst like an overcharged balloon in the sizzling room.

Out the door and down the hall past rows of open office doors. Her feet beat a fast tattoo on the hard linoleum floor. Please, please, she prayed silently, just a job, any job, but I want to work here in Washington so badly.

Here it was, Room 1143. Personnel Placement and Management. The sign hung above double doors, which stood wide open. Sally hesitated a second, then walked expectantly through to the room beyond.

Sally started down the narrow aisle, wondering how she could ever find Mr. Chase. Then she noticed crudely painted signs which hung on the pillars that divided the room into sections. 1137, 1139, 1141 read the numbers. Evidently these sections with no partitions between them were called "rooms." She stopped at the desk nearest the pillar marked 1143.

"Mr. Chase?" she asked the girl at the desk. The girl never looked up. "Three desks back of me."

Sally maneuvered her way toward Mr. Chase, and stopped by his desk. He was on the telephone. He waved his hand at a chair by the desk.

"What do you think I am—God?" he inquired of the telephone. "How can I possibly find 25 stenographers by Tuesday? I can't even find one for myself. Give you plenty of dollar-a-year men, but stenographers, no. They're going out of Washington instead of in. Must be the publicity we're getting."

He banged the phone down, and turned to Sally. "Now what can I do for you?"

Sally handed him the questionnaire she had filled out in the inner office. "I wanted to see you about a position."

Mr. Chase turned the pages quickly. "All the way from Michigan. You'll probably stay two weeks, have hysterics one day, and go back home in a hurry. That's the way they come . . . and go."

Sally controlled an impulse to have the hysterics then and there. "No, Mr. Chase. If I can get a job, I want to stay here—and work hard—and—and—help win the war." She felt she was babbling like a child.

He looked across the desk at the bright-faced girl who was watching him so intently. Steady gray eyes, a gay mouth now rigidly controlled, dark, fluffy hair framing an oval face. More than her attractiveness, Mr. Chase noted the look of spirit, of challenge about her.

He smiled suddenly, remembering the days when he too wanted to set the world on fire. "Miss Thayer, you're the first person in the last hundred I've heard say that whom I believe. I think you will work hard. But it's my private hunch you'll leave Washington a different girl from the one you are today."

You're going to work in a pretty tough town. Tough because every type of person in the country is represented here. Some of them you'll never see—some of them you'll wish you had never seen. You're a long way from River Edge, Michigan. You're on another planet."

But Sally's face was glowing. "I know," she said softly. "It feels like another planet already."

But Mr. Chase was the hard-bitten personnel man again. "You did come here for a job, not a sociology lecture. We've got so many jobs, you can even have your choice. They're all bad." He brooded over a sheaf of papers. "Afraid I can't dig up anything over sixteen-sixty right now. Here's the best of the lot. Over in the copper branch of the materials division. One of the assistant directors over there needs a second secretary. Stenographer, is about all you'd be. The other girl gets whatever good work there is. Know anything about copper?"

Sally shook her head. "Only that it comes out of the ground."

"Never mind. Most of the men over there are pretty vague about the whole business, too. Don't quote me, you understand." Mr. Chase looked severe.

Sally laughed. "I'm sure I'll thank you a thousand times." "All right, then. Report tomorrow morning at 8:15. Room 1809, Temporary R. Personnel over there will take care of you. Now all you've got to do is hang onto your head—and your heart."

Chase. "I'll stay intact. Good-bye." "Don't worry about that. Mr. Sally barely felt the pavement beneath her feet. She wanted to smile at every casual passer-by.

I'm here and I have a job and I'm going to be a success, her thoughts whirled like a giddy merry-go-round. Tomorrow, tomorrow, tomorrow is the day.

Grain Reserves Being Depleted

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—Tremendous demand for grain to feed livestock, produce industrial alcohol and supplement meat rationed diets is reducing the nation's stocks faster than new crops can replenish the supply, grain experts asserted today. Although a corn crop in excess of 3 billion bushels, second largest on record, now is being harvested, consumption of the yellow grain in the past 12 months has exceeded even that large figure. One result is the smallest supply of corn on farms since 1938.

RUSSIANS RACE TO CONQUER 4 NEW OBJECTIVES

(By The Associated Press)

London, Oct. 14—Fall of four major German defense bastions on the Russian front, Melitopol and Zaporozh, and the Crimea: Kiev, great fortress capital of the Ukraine, and Odessa, strategic rail and river center 170 miles east of the Polish frontier in White Russia—appeared almost inevitable today as the Red Army took new gaps in wavering Nazi defenses.

A Soviet communique broadcast from Moscow said Russian troops already were fighting in the streets of Melitopol, and were battling the Germans on the outskirts of the other three. Capture of all four cities would jeopardize the whole German position in Russia and might force a gigantic withdrawal of the Nazi armies to secondary defense lines many miles to the west.

Enter Melitopol. Soviet troops, breaching formidable German defenses in the south Ukraine, forced the Molochna river and surged into the very center of Melitopol in the face of desperate resistance on the part of the defenders, the Soviet bulletin said.

The city is on one of two escape highways open to the German garrisons in the Crimea. Its capture would be a milestone in the Russian drive to isolate the Crimea from the north.

The Russians counted 4,000 German dead in their initial drive on the city.

A four-day battle to the north of Melitopol was said to have brought Soviet advance columns to within five miles of Zaporozh, on the southern end of the Dnieper river bend. Thirty enemy strong-points were shattered, several thousand Germans killed and stores of war material were captured in this drive, Moscow declared. This advance also threatens Dnepropetrovsk, Dnieper river power city, further north.

2 Miles From Kiev. In the battle of Kiev, Moscow said the Russians were fighting less than two miles from Kiev proper. Parts of the city were reported in flames, a possible hint that the enemy already had begun its destruction preparatory to retreat.

Rain and mud failed to halt the Red Army columns pounding the defenses of Gomel in White Russia. The Russians said they had hauled their big guns through almost impassable roads to the "immediate vicinity of Gomel" and shattered German lines outside the city. Soviet spearheads forced the Sozh river near where it flows through the center of the city and today were said to be mounting a final assault against this important anchor base of the German north Russian defense system.

SLAVS REPULSE BOCHE ATTACK

(By The Associated Press)

London, Oct. 14—Strong German forces attempting to storm the town of Tuzla, industrial center dominating the plain leading to Belgrade, have been beaten back and are retreating westward toward Doboi, a communique of the Yugoslav National Liberation Army, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav radio, said today.

This stinging repulse of Nazi forces which for the past several days have been battling for this strategic strongpoint, followed by a few hours the announcement by Drug Tito's headquarters that the entire Italian Venezia Division, until recently fighting with the Germans, had come over to the patriot cause.

At the same time, however, Tito declared that the Chetnik forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovic, King Peter's field commander, and war minister, were arrayed with the Germans against the partisan forces of liberation.

Today's communique said that bitter but inconclusive fighting between partisan columns and German forces was raging around the cities of Ogulin, Karlovac and Zagreb in Croatia; Sibenik, Zala and Imotski in Dalmatia and along main railway arteries in Slovenia and on the Istrian peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crist and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Criswell, York, were Tuesday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Myers.

BYRD SAYS U.S. CHIEF HOARDER OF "MANPOWER"

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—The United States government with 3,063,379 paid employees, three and one-half times as many as in the last war, is "the chief hoarder and waster of manpower," Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) charged here last night.

Addressing the 48th convention of the National Association of Insurance Agents, Byrd asserted that "only a great upsurge of national indignation against this Frankenstein of Federal Bureaucracy" could save democracy, and added:

"Congress is the hope of America." As soon as peace comes, he declared, the federal government must get out of business and the industries which have been seized because of labor troubles must be turned back promptly to private management.

"During the crisis of war," he stated, "proper regulation of business, yet a governmental strait-jacket, dictatorially controlled, means the death of free, private enterprise. Continued after the war, it will destroy our liberties and bankrupt our nation."

Byrd said Vice President Wallace had added "seven more freedoms" to the four named by President Roosevelt.

"It is significant," he said, "that missing from the 11 freedoms are two vital to America—one the freedom from bureaucracy and the other freedom of the private enterprise system."

Cites Dangers Of Over-Regulation

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Small business men were warned against over-regulation of their affairs after the war in an address yesterday by Mark S. James, director of the Pennsylvania Post-War Planning commission.

He told the Harrisburg Exchange club peace will bring "one of the greatest eras of expansion in independent merchandising that this nation has ever known," and added:

"After a man has invested his money in a business he must be allowed the necessary freedom to operate it."

Bus Dispute Is Referred To RWLB

Cleveland, Oct. 14 (AP)—A dispute between the Pennsylvania Greyhound Bus Lines, Inc., and 1,200 drivers, members of an AFL union, will go to the regional War Labor Board for arbitration. Frederick H. Bullen, disputes director for the RWLB, said the controversy, involving the number of standees to be carried, was certified to the National War Labor Board and referred to the regional board.

Strikers Face Two Alternatives

Kearny, N. J., Oct. 14 (AP)—Striking steel handlers had their choice today, the War Labor Board declared, of returning to their jobs at the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company yards here or facing suspension and replacement.

In Washington, it was said privately the War Manpower Commission might invoke sanctions by

Three Nations To Fight Fascists

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Representatives of France, Italy and Republican Spain have formed a "Latin Union" to fight Fascists in their own countries as soon as the Nazis are pushed out.

Count Carlo Sforza, reported on his way to Italy to work with Marshal Badoglio in the battle against Italy's newly declared enemy—declining to issue certificates of availability to the workers, or draft boards might refuse to grant deferments for them. The WLB ordered the approximately 300 men to return to their work today.

WLB Chairman William H. Davis directed the company to cease all negotiations with the strikers and their union until full production is resumed. Davis asserted the strike was a "continued defiance" of WLB orders.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

SILENT FRIENDS

More and more, as the lengthening shadows increase their speed, do I love and cherish the companionship of books. They are my Silent Friends. They never retreat. They await my welcome and convenience. They are always at hand.

Many of these books seem actually to entreat you to take them up and feed upon their substance. Often some of them go to someone else—disappointed that they have been neglected or left idly to rest without the service rendered for which they were created.

I feel sorry for the city that will not or does not have a Public Library. It is one of the finest and proudest gifts people can be given. From such an institution endless numbers gain both mental and spiritual enrichment. It is one of the best—if not the best—institutions that a city can possibly establish as a permanent investment in its security, happiness, and progress.

A Public Library, as well as a private one, is filled with Silent Friends that talk to every taste and every mood. They construct, they console, they entertain, and they help people to do their own climbing. A friend has just written to me that he has just finished reading again Homer's Iliad and Odyssey—and he states that they are better reading every time! That's the way it ought to be with living friends—better friends the more you know and talk with them.

A good book never dies, once it thing to preserve expression and feeling in words and in books.

In the midst of turmoil and strife, has been given circulation. It not only lives in itself, but in untold numbers of people. Give away a book and you give away something pleasant and helpful of yourself. In addition you distribute a vital part of the mind and spirit of the one who conceived and brought it to light.

These book friends are silent in themselves, but what they do to those who commune with them is to lend a voice that often reaches around the world. It is a precious and when everything that we hold of value seems to be slipping away, we have these Silent Friends of ours to comfort and reassure—to give us hope and faith, and to melow our sorrows and disappointments.

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—The Sons and Daughters of Liberty, fraternal organization, installed officers and selected York, Pa., for their 1944 convention site in concluding a three-day gathering here yesterday. New officers include Ida Rohrbach, York, councillor.

Chapter I

It was a stifling day. The heat stretched over the city thick and motionless as an asbestos curtain. It pressed down on government clerks hurrying back to their buildings from lunch. It blasted the faces of the bustling men with briefcases as the swinging doors of the capital's air-cooled hotels deposited them on the scorched sidewalk.

But inside Temporary Building U, overlooking Pennsylvania Avenue and the Department of Commerce, Sally Thayer, two days removed from River Edge, Michigan, was oblivious of the steaming weather. A four-page questionnaire, covered with questions in small type, lay spread out in front of her. Sally had now reached the bottom of page four.

She gave the questionnaire a final look, hoping she hadn't made any mistakes then crossed the room to the receptionist's desk.

The receptionist looked quickly at the questionnaire and then said, "I'll have you see Mr. Chase when he is free. He takes care of all the stenographic help. Will you sit down?"

Sally found a chair at the end of a long row of men and women all clutching questionnaires. She tried to look composed, but actually she was so excited she was wondering how she could ever talk coherently to Mr. Chase.

Suppose she didn't get a job? Mr. Chase might think she hadn't experience enough to handle vital war correspondence. But I've got to get a job, any kind of a job, Sally thought desperately. After the send-off River Edge gave me and the way Mother and Dad carried on, I'd never dare show my face there again till I'd been a success.

The crisp tones of the receptionist cut like a knife through Sally's reveries. "Miss Thayer, see Mr. Chase in Room 1143 at the end of the hall." Sally's dream burst like an overcharged balloon in the sizzling room.

Out the door and down the hall past rows of open office doors. Her feet beat a fast tattoo on the hard linoleum floor. Please, please, she prayed silently, just a job, any job, but I want to work here in Washington so badly.

Here it was, Room 1143.

Personnel Placement and Management. The sign hung above double doors, which stood wide open. Sally hesitated a second, then walk-

Huntingdon, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Election of officers and selection of a 1944 convention city came before delegates to the 81st annual convention of the State Sabbath School in concluding sessions here today.

Dr. C. F. Sanders, retired professor of philosophy at Gettysburg college, declared yesterday that science has failed to solve world problems, adding:

"We have carried science far beyond its legitimate ranks and have asked it for answers to questions which it can never answer."

me, you understand." Mr. Chase looked severe.

Sally laughed. "I'm sure I'll thank you a thousand times."

"All right, then. Report tomorrow morning at 8:15. Room 1809. Temporary R. Personnel over there will take care of you. Now all you've got to do is hang onto your head—and your heart."

"Don't worry about that. Mr. Sally barely felt the pavement beneath her feet. She wanted to smile at every casual passer-by.

Grain Reserves Being Depleted

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—Tremendous demand for grain to feed livestock, produce industrial alcohol and supplement meat rationed diets is reducing the nation's stocks faster than new crops can replenish the supply, grain experts asserted today. Although a corn crop in excess of 3 billion bushels, second largest on record, now is being harvested, consumption of the yellow grain in the past 12 months has exceeded even that large figure. One result is the smallest supply of corn on farms since 1932.

REPRIMAND OFFICERS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—The police trial board reprimanded five city policemen for conduct unbefitting officers because of the "curfew" detention of 10 teen-age girls returning late from a church hayride. Cites Dangers of Over-Regulation

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Small business men were warned against over-regulation of their affairs after the war in an address yesterday by Mark S. James, director of the Pennsylvania Post-War Planning commission.

He told the Harrisburg Exchange club peace will bring "one of the greatest eras of expansion in independent merchandising that this nation has ever known," and added:

"After a man has invested his money in a business he must be allowed the necessary freedom to operate it."

Three Nations To Fight Fascists

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Representatives of France, Italy and Republican Spain have formed a "Latin Union" to fight Fascists in their own countries as soon as the Nazis are pushed out.

Count Carlo Sforza, reported on his way to Italy to work with Marshal Badoglio in the battle against Italy's newly declared enemy—declining to issue certificates of availability to the workers, or draft boards might refuse to grant deferments for them. The WLB ordered the approximately 300 men to return to their work today.

WLB Chairman William H. Davis directed the company to cease all negotiations with the strikers and their union until full production is resumed. Davis asserted the strike was a "continued defiance" of WLB orders.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

SILENT FRIENDS

More and more, as the lengthening shadows increase their speed, do I love and cherish the companionship of books. They are my Silent Friends. They never retreat. They await my welcome and convenience. They are always at hand.

Many of these books seem actually to entreat you to take them up and feed upon their substance. Often some of them go to someone else—disappointed that they have been neglected or left idly to rest without the service rendered for which they were created.

I feel sorry for the city that will not or does not have a Public Library. It is one of the finest and proudest gifts people can be given. From such an institution endless numbers gain both mental and spiritual enrichment. It is one of the best—if not the best—institutions that a city can possibly establish as a permanent investment in its security, happiness, and progress.

A Public Library, as well as a private one, is filled with Silent Friends that talk to every taste and every mood. They construct, they console, they entertain, and they help people to do their own climbing. A friend has just written to me that he has just finished reading again Homer's Iliad and Odyssey—and he states that they are better reading every time! That's the way it ought to be with living friends—better friends the more you know and talk with them.

A good book never dies, once it begins to preserve expression and feeling in words and in books. In the midst of turmoil and strife, has been given circulation. It not only lives in itself, but in untold numbers of people. Give away a book and you give away something pleasant and helpful of yourself. In addition you distribute a vital part of the mind and spirit of the one who conceived and brought it to light.

These book friends are silent in themselves, but what they do to those who commune with them is to lend a voice that often reaches around the world. It is a precious and when everything that we hold of value seems to be slipping away, we have these Silent Friends of ours to comfort and reassure—to give us hope and faith, and to meliorate our sorrows and disappointments.
